

FIRE UNDER CONTROL

Central Pennsylvania Lumber Co.
Saves Valuable Logs.

HOW MEN DROVE BACK FLAMES

The Last Stand Was Made at Old Wood Road Along McCracken's Run—Laquin Was Not Even Scorched by the Fierce Flames.

Frank W. Simmons, president of the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company, with large holdings and a million dollars at stake in the fight against the fire which has been raging in the Barclay mountains for the past two weeks, from Laquin Saturday night reported the fire under control, and the 10,000,000 feet of logs saved.

The fire started on the mountain side near LeRoy, to the Northwest of Laquin, about two weeks ago. It was started by some men who had cut down a "bee tree" and built a fire to smoke out the bees.

Fighting the Fire.

A forest fire is unlike any other fire. It does not run through the woods. It creeps. Catching in the leaves it creeps slowly along, spreading in all directions. A little creek will check it, until a wind comes up and blows a burning leaf across. The Central Pennsylvania people early took notice of the fire, and began their campaign.

A trench was cut through the woods for several miles, facing the line of the advancing flames. Again and again the fire was checked by the trenches, only to cross at some unguarded point, and then the fire fighters would fall back to a new line of entrenchment. Day and night the fight went on, the fire steadily gaining, until Thursday it had crossed the summit, and was creeping down into the valley of McCracken's run, a small tributary of the Little Schuylkill.

Along McCracken's run was an old wood road, hard beaten, and following the same general direction of the advancing flames. On the opposite hillside were piled the precious logs. Here the little army made their last desperate stand. Teams were hitched to heavy plows and furrows thrown in the direction of the enemy. The trench was widened and deepened with picks and shovels, and a regular line of entrenchment thrown up. Beyond this fire was set and driven toward the advancing flame. The earth embankment was saturated with water.

The fire was thus checked at this trench along McCracken run, and gradually burned itself out. The territory was what is known as a "slashing" where all the marketable timber has been cut. All the bushes, the mosses and young trees have been burned and the mountain side is bare and black. Old logs and dead stumps of trees were still burning Saturday night, but the stumps have been cut down, and the logs torn to pieces and water poured on the rotten wood. The logs have been saved.

Another fire is burning to the North of the town, along the brow of the mountain between the Big Schuylkill and Towanda creek, but this is easily held in check, and unless a fierce North wind should drive it toward Laquin, it can do no immediate damage.

Long Valley Hemmed In.

On Monday night of this week, the flames swept down upon Long Valley, and at 11 o'clock, the little village was completely hemmed in. The men fought the flames by "back firing" while their wives and children got their belongings and household goods ready to place on cars to be run into the coal mines, the only place of refuge within the burning circle.

It was about 10 o'clock, when the heavens were lighted, and far to the South, the people of Long Valley saw the flames leaping from bush to tree, and finally a big wave of fire burst over the crest of the mountain and swept down upon the village.

The flames moved as swiftly as the wind, and in less than hour the several miles of woods and underbrush had been traversed and transformed into a seething furnace.

Buildings Take Fire.

All night the men worked like beavers to save their homes and the pretty village of Long Valley from being obliterated. Tuesday morning, a large double house owned by the Long Valley Coal company took fire and was totally destroyed. The building was unoccupied. Later in the day, the slaughter house owned by the same company, was burned.

Odd Fellows Hall Saved.

Wednesday morning, Odd Fellows hall, Long Valley's largest building took fire, and seemed doomed to destruction. The entire populace turned out, and after an heroic fight extinguished the flames. It was necessary to tear away a portion of the roof to do effective work. The women were of great service, carrying the water to the men.

Dew Only Dampness.

For three days and nights the people of Long Valley fought the flames, and Thursday, their village was out.

MANIAC'S TERRIBLE DEED

TWO PROMINENT TOWANDIANS SHOT

Dr. D. Leonard Pratt and County Detective C. E. McCracken Wounded.

PATRICK KENNEDY'S MURDEROUS ATTACK

DOCTOR PRATT WILL RECOVER, BUT DETECTIVE McCracken's condition is very serious. BULLET PERFORATED LEFT LUNG, MISSING HEART BY FRACTION OF AN INCH—KENNEDY IS IN THE COUNTY JAIL—THE GREATEST SENSATION HERE IN RECENT YEARS—THE STORY.

Second street, Towanda, was the scene of a terrible shooting affair on Wednesday evening at 6:15, the result of which County Detective Charles E. McCracken is in the Packer hospital at Sayre with a bullet hole through his left chest, less than half an inch above the heart, and Dr. D. Leonard Pratt is at his home, corner of Main and State streets, with a wound in the stomach.

Patrick Kennedy is in the county jail on Pine street, the confessed perpetrator of the crime. He is charged with assault and attempt to kill. He is believed to be insane.

The shooting was done while Detective McCracken was attempting to serve a warrant upon Kennedy, in which he was charged with threatening to kill Dr. Pratt. The doctor was shot a moment after Detective McCracken, while he was standing in the road in front of Kennedy's home on Second street, examining the officer's wound.

Scores of people saw the shooting.

CONDITION OF THE WOUNDED MEN.

Dr. Pratt's recovery is assured, his wound being a flesh one, the bullet going from left to right, coming out without perforating the lining of the stomach.

Mr. McCracken's wound is more serious. The bullet struck him just above the heart, perforated the lung, and lodged under the left shoulder blade, where it was located and removed at the Packer hospital Wednesday night. His condition is very favorable, and his chances for recovery good.

ARREST OF KENNEDY.

Kennedy was taken into custody in front of W. F. Humphrey's tailoring establishment at the corner of Main and Poplar streets, a few minutes after the shooting. Night Officer Brutzman made the arrest.

Kennedy offered no resistance, although Officer Brutzman was compelled to take the pistol from him, he having it in his pocket.

Just before being taken into custody, Kennedy made the remark that he had shot Dr. Pratt and Charley McCracken, and that they could take him and hang him for it if they wanted to, and he would offer no objection.

ADMITS THE SHOOTING.

After being placed in the county jail, Kennedy told Sheriff Griffin that he did the shooting. He was very calm and unconcerned about it. When asked if he would not like some supper, he replied: "Under the circumstances, I believe not."

STORY OF THE CRIME.

Patrick Kennedy, the man who fired the shots, evidently with murderous intent, is undoubtedly insane. He is about 38 or 40 years old, unmarried, and for a number of years has lived in bachelor apartments in the C. M. Hall tenant house on Second street, occupying the basement suite of rooms on the North end of the building next to the residence of Hon. W. T. Davies. He has earned his livelihood by doing odd jobs, mowing lawns, etc., for different people, being employed considerably by former Lieutenant-Governor Davies and family. He has been acting queerly for a long time, and on several occasions has remarked that he would shoot some one.

HEARD PECULIAR VOICES.

On Tuesday of this week, Dr. D. L. Pratt drove along Second street past Kennedy's rooms, and he was standing outside his basement door. The

CONTRACTOR KISNER INJURED.

Horse Became Frightened at Traction Engine, Running Wagon in Ditch.

Charles Kisner, a well known Towanda contractor and builder, was severely injured by the overturning of his carriage in a deep ditch near Wysox Saturday forenoon. The frightening of his horse by a traction engine caused the accident.

Mr. Kisner was driving from Wysox to Towanda about 11:30 Saturday morning, and when at a point directly in front of the R. H. Laning farm, he met a team hitched to a lumber wagon. As he was passing the team, a traction engine pulling a threshing started out from the Laning place, and the exhaust of the engine frightened the horse which Mr. Kisner was driving.

The animal jumped, overturning the carriage into the deep ditch along the roadside throwing Mr. Kisner out with great force. The engine was immediately stopped, the horse became quiet, and did not run away.

The carriage was raised and Mr. Kisner lifted out of the ditch and brought to his home in Towanda where he was attended by Dr. S. M. Woodburn. Examination disclosed two fractured ribs, sprain of the left shoulder which was also badly bruised, right arm injured, and left ear nearly torn off, besides other bruises about the head and body.

Postmasters as Teachers.

A news dispatch from Washington, says: "Postmaster General Meyer has issued an order directing all postmasters to unite with local school authorities in adopting the most effective method of instructing school children as to the organization and operations of the postal service, particularly the proper addressing of letters and the importance of placing return cards on envelopes. Postmasters are directed to arrange, if possible, to deliver personal talks to the pupils, and give teachers access to the postal guide and the postal laws, and render them every assistance in obtaining necessary information."

Believes Man Was Murdered.

Lehigh Detective Shafer has been making an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the finding of the dead body of an unknown man along the Lehigh tracks at North Towanda on Thursday of this week, and is of the opinion that the man was murdered and robbed by tramps, and his body then thrown from the freight train. Detective Shafer believes the man was riding in a box car which had been used to transport tramps, and was set upon by tramps and killed. The shoes on the dead man's feet, the detective believes, belonged to another party, and that an exchange was made after the murder.

Recreation Club Officers.

The Boys' Recreation club met at the home of Prof. J. H. Humphries on Friday, Sept. 18. Refreshments were served after the business meeting and a good time was had by all. The following officers were elected for this year: President, Clark Stiles; vice-president, James Smith; secretary, Rolfe Humphries; treasurer, Joe Sherer.

Valuable Horse Dead.

J. H. Myer had the misfortune to lose his promising young race horse, Prince Baron, yesterday morning. Prince Baron Monday morning, and with very little training has shown miles around 2:21 1/2, with first quarters in 32 seconds. He showed himself a very consistent race horse.

Fire at Smithfield.

The Smithfield foundry owned by Delano Forrest and a dwelling house which adjoined it and was occupied by a man named Lyons, burned Saturday night, the origin of the fire being unknown. The foundry building formerly a tannery, was one of the landmarks of that section, being over 50 years old.

At the Troy Fair.

Among the many Towandians in attendance at the Troy fair Friday were: Hon. George Moserip, Deputy Sheriff Dean, Register and Recorder Dewey, Burgess Foyle, Morris Shepard, and County Superintendent of Schools, H. S. Putnam.

$100 REWARD

Without desiring to trespass in any way upon the duties of those who have in charge the management of our policies I feel constrained to take cognizance of what is only too obvious to all who have any knowledge whatever of what is going on in our local politics. I refer to the wide spread and flagrant use of money in this campaign. Because of this I make the following offer with the hope of at least checking, if not altogether stopping, this grave and criminal abuse of the electoral right.

I therefore offer a reward of one hundred ($100) dollars to any person or persons who will furnish sufficient evidence to indict and convict any person who shall, directly or indirectly, give, or offer to give any gift or reward, money or other valuable consideration, to any elector, with the intent to induce him to vote for any particular candidate or candidates at the election to be held November 3, 1908, or who shall directly or indirectly procure or agree to give any such gift, reward, money or other valuable consideration to such elector with the intent aforesaid, or who shall with the intent to influence or intimidate such elector to give his vote for any particular candidate or candidates at said election, give, offer or promise to give such elector, any office, place or appointment or employment, or threaten such elector with discharge or dismissal from any office, place, appointment or employment, public or private, then held by him, in case of his refusal to vote for any particular candidate or candidates at said election.

LANCASTER'S BIG WHEAT

105-Pound Pottstown Husband Under Arrest for Whipping His $200 Pound Wife—Aged Lady Has First and Last Trolley Ride in One Day.

The reunion of the Brown family at Friedensburg, Schuylkill county, on Saturday, was attended by 3,000 persons.

There have been two deliveries from the Butler county jails, yet a grand jury on Saturday reported the jail in good condition.

James McCaffrey of Uniontown, has been arrested on a charge of having burned all his wife's clothing so she could not appear as a witness before a grand jury against him.

Emulating the circus high dives, David Lloyd of Lytle, near Pottsville, aged six years, on Sunday took a dive from a third story window "just for fun." It was a drop of 50 feet, but the boy escaped with a few bruises and not even a sprain or fracture.

The family of the Rev. James M. Cain, a Methodist Episcopal minister in Waynesburg, Green county, is sorely stricken with typhoid fever. A 15 year old daughter, Bessie, died from the fever on Sunday morning and Mrs. Cain and three other children are critically ill.

They should build stronger mills or grow smaller wheat crops in Lancaster county. At the mill of Isaac Siegrist, in Rapho township, a thousand bushels of wheat was stored on the third floor. The joists gave way and the whole weight crashed through the cellar. The mill will have to be practically rebuilt before it can be operated.

The clover seed crop in Nippenose Valley is exceptionally good this year. Probably the banner yield occurred last Thursday, when out of two small loads George Tate, of Oval, secured six bushels of fine seed. The crop was just the lot grown in the orchard and is all the more remarkable on this account, as clover, like other crops, never does its best in the shade. James Welshans secured 13 bushels from five loads. George Arnold's yield was about 30 bushels. The retail price of clover seed at present is $8 a bushel, so that the crop yields quite an income.

Allen Bergy of Pottstown, whose weight is 105 pounds was arrested on Monday on the charge of beating his wife whose weight is 200 pounds.

Clarence W. Kaufman of Reading, aged 18 years, it is believed is the youngest president in the state of a camp of the Patriotic Order Sons of America.

Samuel L. Devine, 31 years old, a well known merchant of Edge Grove, York county, Uncle Sam's tallest and heaviest postmaster, died on Monday. He was six feet four inches tall and weighed 350 pounds.

On Monday morning the work of tearing down the remaining half of John Wanamaker's big store in Philadelphia was begun, and by 7 o'clock in the morning about 3,000 workmen were there seeking employment. About 1,000 men were given work while the others clamored loudly for something to do.

On Monday an aged lady boarded a trolley car at Westcoeville, Lehigh county. It was her first car ride. After going a few miles the car collided with another heavy car and both were damaged and the passengers were shaken up. The old lady was not injured but she refused to go into another car, demanded her money back and walked back to her home.

John Miller, residing near Connelville, Fayette county, was arrested a few days ago at the instance of Deputy Game Warden Ralph Ross, for having, as the testimony showed, robbed a quail's nest of 31 eggs and also for stealing the mother quail. He placed the eggs under a hen and they were hatched out but did not want of proper care. Warden Ross set the mother quail free. Miller was fined $60 and costs, which ran his bill up to $68.

Joseph Hoffman of Tremont, has a duck that lays eggs with a coal black shell; but the yolk and albumen are normal.

Prospectors who were digging for sand on the Hebst tract near Red Lion in York, have come upon what appears to be a coal deposit of about 40 acres.

Clarence, the three years old son of Mose Light, a farmer living near Lebanon died yesterday after a brief illness, as the result of eating wheat. The child was permitted to play with the grain while his father was threshing and ate a large quantity of it.

Mrs. Temperance Mahoon, who died at Wilkes-Barre on Monday night at the age of 92 years and six months, was a real daughter of the Revolution. Her father's name was Jimson. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary war and died in his ninety-sixth year.

The homes of 500 persons are endangered by fire burning in a Carbonate coal mine, which was started in 1901 by the burning of refuse on the surface of the workings. A vast amount of money will be required to put an end to this fire, which is likely to cause the entire destruction of the street in Carbonate under which it is raging.

Recently when Peter Winegard of near Lamartine, Clarion county, went to the pasture field to bring the cows home for milking he was surprised to find three calves with the herd, a heifer 2½ years old having given birth to them during the night. Two of the calves weighed 35 pounds each and the other one weighed 45 pounds. The calves are the heifer's firstborn. Many persons have driven miles to see the triplets.

PHILETA MEDIUM'S NEW MARK.

H. H. Northrup Drove His Trotter in Earnest at Dryden, N. Y.

Phileta Medium, H. H. Northrup's fast trotter, now has a mark of 2:20¼ behind the making of which is a very interesting racing story. Mr. Northrup, who calls Monroeton home, has been attending the fairs in Southern New York state, and has been very successful, winning six straight races in the 2:24 and 2:27 classes, taking first money in each event.

He went to the Dryden, N. Y., fair and entered Phileta Medium in the 2:27 and 2:24 classes, and in the latter race, had taken two straight heats. For some reason or other, Mr. Northrup aroused the ire of the starter, and when the horses came out for the third heat, announcement was made that the first time the majority of horses came together under the wire for a fair start, they would be given the word "go" and the horses in the background would have to take their chances.

As luck would have it, Northrup with Phileta Medium was down the track near the last quarter, and when the bunch of horses turned to start, Phileta Medium was doing a waltz and two-step combined. When the bunch passed under the wire and the starter yelled "go," Phileta Medium was at least 200 yards in the rear, and far from being under control. Finally the animal settled down, took the step, and urged by Northrup, started to overtake the bunch.

Like a machine in perfect running order, Phileta Medium swung around in front of the grand stand and down the stretch. Before the first half mile had been covered the Monroeton horse had passed the bunch with their big start, and for the last quarter, Driver Northrup turned his back to the horse and watched the procession of trotters behind him. He won the heat with lots of room to spare, but the timers immediately marked Phileta Medium 2:20¼, and from now on the horse will have that mark.

At Owego, Phileta Medium was defeated by two horses, only getting third place, and as the same two horses which did the trick are coming to the Towanda fair, Mr. Northrup says he will show the owners of the two steeds that Phileta Medium merely had an off day, and that he will take first money, or go some in the attempt.

PEDDLER TO MILLIONAIRE.

Classmate of Judge Fanning Visits Mansfield, Where He Made Start.

From rag peddler to millionaire is the record of W. H. Loomis, a graduate of the Mansfield Normal, who rode into that town one day last week in an automobile in marked contrast with the times 40 years ago, when he drove in with a nag and his load of rags which he used in exchange for tin. He was entertained while there by his cousin, George L. Palmer.

Mr. Loomis worked his way through the Mansfield Normal school, working a part of the time for D. H. Pitts. In his studies he was a classmate of Judge A. C. Fanning of Towanda.

After getting through school, Mr. Loomis worked about at several odd jobs for a time, but finally engaged in paint manufacturing and has made a fortune estimated in seven figures. He now resides in Brooklyn, where he has a palatial home.

Juvenile Boat Thieves.

Last Wednesday E. L. Granger of North Towanda, missed his boat which had been locked at Hemlock Run, and reported its loss to Constable Hollon of Towanda. On Saturday Officer Hollon located the boat at East Towanda, in possession of Omers Conrad, 13 years of age. The lad confessed that with his brother, Miles Conrad, aged 11, he had taken the boat and repainted it so as to hide the name and address of Mr. Granger which was on the boat and oars. The Conrad boys also had in their possession another recent painted boat, which they claim was given to them by a stranger. They will have a hearing before Squire Orcutt next Saturday on the charge of the larceny of the Granger boat.

Return to Home in England.

Mrs. F. G. Harrington of Liverpool, England, who has been visiting at the home of John Brimmer at North Rome, on Saturday sailed from New York for Liverpool on the steamer Caronia, of the Cunard line, which Lehigh Ticket Agent Bostwick at Upper Towanda, represents in this section. Mr. Harrington, who is captain of a steamship, returned to Liverpool a couple of weeks ago, after an extended visit with friends in North Rome.

Some Big Carp.

Charles Kinsman and son, while spearing on the river in the vicinity of Towanda Saturday night, captured three carp, the total weight of which was 38 pounds. A few days ago, Mr. Kinsman captured a carp which tipped the scales at 30 pounds, being perhaps the largest fish ever captured in this section. In dressing the monster, Mr. Kinsman found nearly ten pounds of carp eggs.

Soldiers' Reunion.

There will be a reunion of Companies D, G and K, 50th Regiment P. V., held at Monroeton on Sept. 23. All comrades are requested to be present. Isaac Babcock, secretary, Athens.

Verdict for Plaintiff.

In common pleas court Monday the case of Pierce & Bickford vs. J. W. Richards, a verdict for $203.61 was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. Hoyt & Schrier were attorneys for the plaintiff, while E. M. Dunham represented the defendant.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER

CHARLES MILTON EVANS PASSES FROM MORTAL KEN.

Well Known and Highly Esteemed Towandian Died Sunday Morning.

Charles M. Evans, one of Towanda's best known and most highly esteemed young men, died at his home on South Main street Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock after a long illness with heart trouble.

When a boy, he suffered an attack of rheumatism, and while he fully recovered from that malady, he never regained his former strength. Last January he became ill with lagrippe, and was in a serious condition for some time, but finally recovered. This illness affected his heart and while he was able to be about yet his health was very poor. He went to Clifton Springs where he was under treatment for some time, returning to his home in Towanda four weeks ago. Everything known to medical science was done for him but to no avail, and death came gently Sunday morning.

Charles Milton Evans was born in Towanda on July 18, 1871, therefore being in his 38th year. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Evans, one of Towanda's best known and most highly esteemed families. He graduated from the Towanda high school, and in 1896 graduated from Princeton University.

Returning from college, he entered the large dry goods store of which his father, D. T. Evans, is owner, and up until failing health compelled his retirement, he was associated with his father in the management of the store. Four years ago last June he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Spalding, an accomplished young lady, who with his parents, and one brother, Walter D. Evans, survive.

Charles M. Evans was an exemplary young man. Quiet and unassuming in his ways, frank and sincere, firm in his friendships, no one knew him but to admire and esteem. During his long service in the Evans store, he came in contact with hundreds of people, all of whom testify to his worth and sterling character.

Deceased was a consistent and devoted member of the Presbyterian church, and when able seldom missed a service. He was also an honored member of the Lin-a-ho company of Towanda borough.

Death is a never welcome visitor, and in this case, removing as it does a young man just in the Summer of his life, with a future which seemed to hold so much, it is distressing indeed. While all deeply deplore his untimely demise, yet those who knew him best, in their sorrow will rejoice that he has lived, and that his life is worthy the emulation of all men.

Well Known Minister Dead.

Rev. G. Parsons Nichols, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Binghamton, died Thursday last week at his home in that city, aged 71 years. He was one of the best known Presbyterian divines in the country.

Funeral of Charles M. Evans.

The funeral services for the late Charles M. Evans will be held at his late home on South Main street this Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. J. S. Stewart, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian church, will conduct the services. Interment will be made in the family lot in Oak Hill cemetery.

John H. Scovell.

John H. Scovell, one of Towanda township's best known residents, died Saturday noon, Sept. 19, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. U. M. McGill, on Towanda Hill. Heart trouble was the cause of death. Deceased was about 70 years of age, and had a host of friends who will regret to learn of his demise. He is survived by three daughters: Mrs. U. M. McGill with whom he lived, Mrs. W. D. Minard of Monroeton, and Mrs. W. J. Lundy of Towanda. Means Scovell of Overton, is a brother of the deceased.

Jacob Horning.

Jacob Horning, one of Canton's respected citizens, died at his home on Troy street, in that village, Saturday, Sept. 12. During the previous night he had a stroke of apoplexy, which resulted in his death. Mr. Horning was born at Liberty in 1840, and was for many years a resident of Canton. He is survived by his wife. The funeral was held from the Church of Christ of which denomination he was a faithful member, Monday, Sept. 14, at 2 o'clock, the services being in charge of the pastor, Rev. C. A. Brady. The interment was made in Park cemetery.

Miss Ada Stull.

Miss Ada E. Stull died at the home of her parents in Canton on Monday, Sept. 14, aged 46 years. She had been ill for a number of years with consumption, and about three weeks ago she began to fail rapidly, and continued sinking until death claimed her at the time stated. Deceased was the daughter of Levi and Clois Stull of Canton, and was born in Canton where she resided all her life. She was a Christian lady and for many years a member of the Church of Christ. Besides her parents, she is survived by one brother, Asa Stull of Canton. The funeral services were held from her late home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. A. Brady. The interment was made in the Park cemetery.

George Dillin.

Within a few days three of Troy's oldest citizens have passed away. Sunday evening, Sept. 20, at 7 o'clock the death of George Dillin, aged 80 years, occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clark Joralemon, following three weeks' illness. Mr. Dillin was born in Queen County, Ireland, June 21, 1828, and with his parents immigrated to this country in 1831. In 1848 he moved to Troy, where he has since resided. He was employed for 23 years at Long's Mills by Horace F. Long, and in 1874 became a partner of G. F. Viele, in Viele's Mills. Four years later the mills came into possession of H. G. McKean, of whom Mr. Dillin rented for two years and operated it alone for six years, when he took his sons, Arthur H. and Joseph R., into partnership. The mill burned some years ago and he rebuilt on another site, and when that was destroyed by fire three years ago he retired from active business. In June, 1882, he married Sophia L. Phelps of Mainsburg, Pa., and nine children were born to them, four of whom are deceased. He was a Royal Arch Mason. For years he has been a staunch Methodist. He is survived by three sons, Arthur of Coryland, Joseph of Troy, and William of Williamsport, and two daughters, Mrs. Clark Joralemon and Mrs. Grover Stanton of Troy. The funeral will be held from Clark Joralemon's residence on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Revs. A. E. Hall and R. C. Hebblethwaite will officiate. He will be buried with Masonic rites. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery, Troy.

Winfield S. Nearing.

Winfield S. Nearing, a wealthy and retired citizen of Troy, died at his home in that village at 2:30 o'clock Sept. 20, after several weeks' illness. He came to Troy from Morris Run, a year ago and bought and remodeled the George Dillin property on Elmira street. He was born in Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 21, 1829. In his early life he was engaged in engineering work and in the rebuilding of the Erie Canal. In 1854 he was married to Mary McCurdy, of Syracuse. For 45 years he was superintendent of the mines at Morris Run, resigning that position about two years ago. Mr. Nearing was chief engineer in the building of the Beech Creek railroad. He was president of the Cottage State hospital at Blossburg. He was prominent and influential, was well known throughout the State and noted for his unusual executive ability. Two sons survive, Louis of Troy, and Frank of New York city.

Esther Rutty.

Esther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rutty of Sayre, died Monday evening, after a three days' illness.

Mildred Wright.

Monday afternoon the death of Mildred A. infant daughter of former Congressman Charles F. Wright of Susquehanna, occurred, after a short illness.

Percy S. Hansel.

Percy S. Hansel, aged about 45 years, and a native of New Era, this county, dropped dead while on his way to work at Fisher's Eddy, N. Y., on Sept. 15. He was a member of Company M, which was recruited in this county for the Spanish-American war.

Funeral of Rev. David Craft.

The remains of the late Rev. David Craft will arrive from Angelica, N. Y., on the 4 o'clock train this afternoon. Instead of train No. 4, as first announced. The funeral party will go direct to Oak Hill cemetery, where services will be held and interment made.

Mrs. Warren Wheaton.

The death of Mrs. Warren Wheaton occurred very suddenly on Wednesday, Sept. 16, at her home above New Albany. The family being away her son Walter on returning from school, found his mother lying on the back porch where she had fallen. Death presumably being caused by apoplexy. Mrs. Watson had been in her usual health. It was a severe shock to the many friends as well as the family, coming as it did, and the entire community deeply sympathize with the bereaved family. Deceased was 46 years of age, leaves a husband and one daughter, Miss Jennie, and three sons, Henry, Frank and Walter, all of New Albany. The funeral took place at her late home and was largely attended. Rev. Ackor conducting the service and burial was made in New Albany cemetery.

Theodore Waldron.

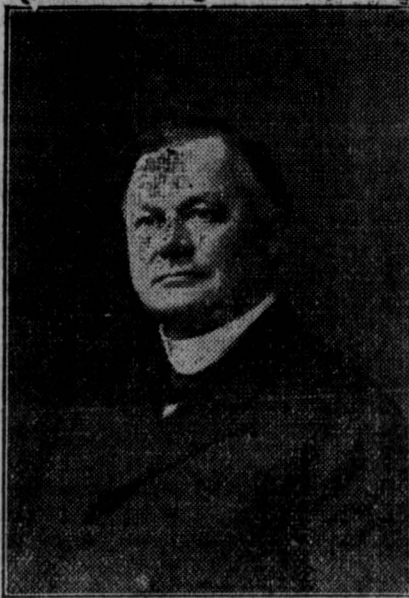

The loss of one of Troy's oldest and most charitable citizens occurred in the death of Theodore Waldron, who had for some time been in failing health. Mr. Waldron was born at Bristol, R. I., Sept. 29, 1831. For many years he was a contractor and builder. He was united with the Presbyterian church 50 years ago and for 40 years was ruling elder until two years ago, when at his request he retired on account of ill health. For many years he served faithfully as church treasurer. He was the largest contributor according to his means of any member of the church and was by far the largest contributor to benevolent work. He was at all times a Good Samaritan to all in need in the community at large. In 1856 he married Miss Anna Parsons, sister of J. A. Parsons of Troy. Her death occurred nine years later. After some years he married Miss Sarah Perry, who survives him. His funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, his pastor, Rev. E. P. Morse, officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery, Troy.

REV. O. A. HOUGHTON DEAD.

Beloved Pastor of Towanda M. E. Church Passed Away.

Rev. Oscar A. Houghton, D. D., beloved pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Towanda, and one of the best known ministers of the Central New York conference, died at his home on Main street Tues. night at 11:30 o'clock. Death was caused by acute heart disease.

Dr. Houghton had been ill for nearly two weeks, but was recovering and Tuesday was upon the street and attending to affairs, although somewhat weak. He retired as usual, but a few minutes after 11 o'clock he awakened Mrs. Houghton, who saw he was suffering greatly. She immediately called Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rahm and Dr. C. M. Woodburn, but before help could arrive he had passed to the presence of the Master whom he had served so long and so faithfully.

Sketch of His Life.

Rev. Oscar A. Houghton, D. D., was born at Trenton, N. Y., and received his preparatory education at the Old Falley Seminary at Fulton, N. Y., where the well known educator, John B. Griffin, A. M., was principal. Dr. Houghton entered Jamieson college, which afterward became Syracuse university, and took the master's degree at the first commencement of the university, having one of the two masters' orations. He took a post-graduate course at Syracuse and received his degree of Ph. D. The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon him several years ago by the same university. He was a member of the D. K. E. fraternity of the university.

Dr. Houghton's first charge was at Wolcott, N. Y., going from there directly to Syracuse, where he was the pastor of three Methodist churches, the First Ward, West Genesee street, and Centenary. From there he went to Hedding church in Elmira, after which he was pastor of the First Church at Auburn, N. Y., where he served the limit of five years. For four years then he was supernumerary on account of illness, but during this time was acting pastor of the North Avenue Congregational church at Cambridge, Mass., for one year. He was then pastor of the First Church at Cortland, N. Y., for five years, followed by a two years' pastorate at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

He came to Towanda in October, 1903, and preached his first sermon as pastor on Sunday, the eleventh day of that month, therefore had he lived until two weeks from next Sunday he would have completed his fifth year as pastor of the church in Towanda.

Dr. Houghton not only received high educational advantages, as his college record shows, but he had traveled extensively in lands and places which was of the greatest benefit in his ministerial work. While in charge of the Hedding church in Elmira, he spent four months on the continent and during his fourth year at Auburn he was granted a leave of absence and in company with 11 other ministers, visited Egypt, Palestine and Greece, spending 50 days on horseback in the Holy Land before the advent of railroads there.

He was a power in the church, took an active part in all the conferences, and was widely known throughout New York state, especially in the Central New York conference. He was offered the presiding eldership of different districts, but refused them, believing that he could do better and more effective work in his chosen profession laboring as a pastor.

He was, beside being a great scholar and earnest preacher of the gospel, a gentleman whom it was a privilege and a pleasure to know. He went among men an exemplary Christian. He was kind, generous, loving, always the same genial, high spirited and friendly gentleman. Meet him on the street, in his home or in his church, he was always the same, an earnest yet smiling and friendly man. In his death the Central New York conference loses one of its most distinguished and able members, and Towanda loses a citizen who during his nearly five years residence here has won the esteem and love of not only his own congregation, but that of the people of the town in general.

Dr. Houghton was twice married, and beside his second wife is survived by one son by his first marriage, Dr. Harris A. Houghton, a practicing physician in New York city.

The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

SINGULAR OBITUARY.

Published By Editor-Father Whose Daughter Had Elop.

A few days ago the daughter of Editor Trumbell of the Bernardsville, N. Y., News, eloped with a young man named Fred Compton, to whom the parents of the girl had strenuously objected because of personal habits and qualities of which they strongly disapproved.

The father of the bride then published in his next issue an announcement of the elopement under the head of obituary and stated that he had lost a daughter, not gained a son-in-law. Said the editor:

"There was absolutely no excuse for all this wretched business save that, after his gross misconduct, the girl was not allowed to go out with the fellow—by night. No more democratic people live than her parents, who, if the love were mutual, sought only in a husband for their daughter a white man, clean of body, clean of mind, of cleanly habits and with some small modicum of brains—not a mere mop of hair—under his hat. This one did not come up to even these modest requirements.

"No use to quote how 'All the world loves a lover' and prate about 'Young Lochinvars,' and all that, for it doesn't fit the case at all. There is no more glamour of romance in the affair than there is in a side of beef or a peck of turnips. It is simply that a coarse fellow with a broad yellow streak, opportunity offering, has succeeded in poisoning the mind of a foolish girl and enticing her from the best of homes and to descend to his level, without possessing the first quality to make her life a happy one in the days that are to come."

Commissioners Vindicated.

A news dispatch from Coudersport says: "The cases against Potter county commissioners Franke, Nichols and Austin for negligence in office came to abrupt ending Friday morning when Judge Cameron, presiding, instructed the jury to return a verdict of 'Not Guilty.' Under the laws of the commonwealth the jury still have control of the costs in misdemeanor cases and have the power to impose the costs upon the defendant or upon the county. The court plainly told them that if they imposed the costs upon the defendants that he would set aside the verdict and would send them out for a further deliberation. This is a complete vindication of the conduct of the county commissioners in their charge of the county home of Potter county."

Cleared Nice Sum.

The committees in charge of the Labor day celebration which was held on the East Towanda fair grounds for the benefit of St. Agnes school, have paid all the expenses of the affair, and have a nice large sum which will be applied on the school debt. The committees and Rev. Hugh Ruddy, curate of the Church of St. Peter and Paul, who was at the head of the celebration are very grateful for the patronage of the people who helped make the celebration such a big success.

Valuable Mare Dead.

A valuable black mare, owned by John Stroud of South Towanda, died Sunday morning, Oct. 15, 1901, during the big flood of that winter. Mr. Stroud's barn was carried away by the high water. The mare, whose death occurred on Sunday, was in the barn, and floated on the crest of the flood to a point on South Mountain, near Rocky Rifts, a distance of about three miles, where it was rescued.

Road Tax Opinion.

Deputy Attorney General Cunningham has rendered an opinion to Deputy State Highway Commissioner Benham to the effect that the annual tax of one dollar which the road supervisors of each township are authorized by the act of April 12, 1905, to assess against "taxable," applies to the residents of their respective townships, but not to non-residents.

Admits Terrible Crime.

At Coudersport, Wednesday, Solomon Dalaba, a man 60 years of age and widely known through that section of the state for years as an itinerant preacher and evangelist, pleaded guilty to criminal relations with his own daughter, 15 years of age covering a long period.

H. W. Christman's Sister Dead.

H. W. Christman, manager of the Hotel Wesauking, and his wife, are in Norristown, Pa., called there by the death of the gentleman's sister, Mrs. Thornly, was very well and favorably known to many people in this section, as she spent some time the past Summer at the hotel Wesauking.

Special Exhibits Wanted.

The American Agriculture Chemical company will have a tent at the great Bradford county fair, and the company wants special exhibits of corn, oats, wheat pumpkins, potatoes, etc., grown on land on which the company's fertilizer was used.

Insurance Paid.

The fire loss of Sept. 2, to dwelling of J. H. Orcutt, Esq., was adjusted as total loss on building, $600, and $225 and $295 on furniture. Drafts for the amounts were paid by German of Pittsburg, and German American of Baltimore, last week through Chas. M. Hall, their Towanda agent.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were issued on Saturday: B. Frank Baxter of Granville, and Grace Mason of LeRoy; Harvey Lewis and Marguerite Smith, both of Dryden, N. Y.; Fred Carver Day of Ithaca, and Flora A. Struhm, both of Sayre.

MARRIAGE RECORD

BISHOP—CORBIN.

Prominent Young People of Sayre, United in Marriage Monday.

There was a quiet home wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Corbin of Sayre, at noon on Monday, when their daughter, Miss Mabel E. Corbin was united for life to Howard Elmer Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Bishop. It was just noon when the bridal party entered the parlor of the Corbin residence. To the strains of a wedding march played by Mrs. William H. Kennedy, a sister of the groom, and the marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Daw, rector of Trinity church of Athens.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served and then the bride and groom left for a wedding trip. They will be absent about ten days. The ceremony was witnessed by the immediate relatives only.

The bride is a popular young woman, she has been prominent socially in Sayre and has many friends who will wish her a happy wedded life. She and the groom were graduated from the Sayre High school in the class of '03. After graduation the groom entered Union college at Schenectady and was graduated as an electrical engineer in the class of '07. He was employed for a time in the testing room of the General Electrical company at Schenectady. Then he returned to Sayre and is now employed in his father's office.

Corey—Brown.

William Corey and Zephia Brown, both of Sayre, were united in marriage in Towanda yesterday afternoon by Justice of the Peace J. H. Orcutt, at his office in the Nobles block.

Corner—Searles.

At the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church in Towanda, on the morning of Sept. 16, by the Rev. O. A. Houghton, Charles E. Corner and Isabelle B. Searles were united in marriage.

Lendrum—Linehan.

Miss Katherine Linehan of Athens, and Henry Lendrum of Sayre, were married at the home of Justice of the Peace H. F. Johnson in Athens on Wednesday, Sept. 16, the impressive words of the marriage service being spoken by the genial justice.

SOME FACTS ABOUT PENSION LAWS.

It is the Republican party and not the party to which Congressman Kipp belongs which has passed the pension laws of this country, and no country on earth has ever treated its old soldiers with as much generosity as the United States.

Saying nothing of the pension laws of former years let us take a look at the Republican pension legislation of the last eight years.

The act of June 27, 1890, passed by a Republican congress and signed by a Republican President, was the first disability pension law in the history of the world, granting to soldiers and sailors pensions for disability not proven to have been incurred in the service and line of duty. This was the most far-reaching pension legislation enacted after the close of the Civil war, and recognized a higher obligation of the people to their disabled veterans than was ever before formulated into law. Previous to 1890 pensions for service in the Civil war were granted only to those who were wounded in the service or who had contracted some disability therein, and likewise pensions were granted only to widows, minor children, and dependent parents of those who died from injuries received or disabilities contracted in the service. The act of June 27, 1890, granted pensions to all persons who served ninety days or more during the Civil war and who were disabled from earning a living by manual labor, without requiring the applicant to prove that the disability was incurred in the service. The act also granted pensions to the dependent widows of all such persons without requiring them to prove that their husbands died of wounds received or disabilities contracted in the service. The rate of pension under the act of June 27, 1890, was from $6 to $12 a month to the survivors of the Civil war in accordance with the degree of disability, and $8 a month to all widows.

The most important legislation since the passage of the above act was the act of Feb. 6, 1907, also passed by a Republican congress and signed by a Republican President. Under this act any person who served ninety days or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the Civil war or sixty days in the war with Mexico and who was honorably discharged, is entitled to a pension of $12 per month on reaching the age of 62 years, $15 per month on reaching the age of 70 years, and $20 per month on reaching the age of 75. While the rates to survivors under the act of June 27, 1890, were from $6 to $12 per month, the rates provided by the act of Feb. 6, 1907, are from $12 to $20 per month. Nearly 400,000 applications for the benefit of this act have been filed and more than 350,000 certificates have been issued thereunder, making an average increase to each pensioner of about $3 per annum.

The legislation next in importance is the act of April 19, 1908, to increase the pensions of widows, minor children, etc., of deceased soldiers and sailors of the Civil war, the war with Mexico, the various Indian wars, etc., and to grant a pension to certain widows of the deceased soldiers and sailors of the late Civil war. Under this act all widows, minors and helpless children on the rolls at a less rate were increased to $12 per month, and the widows of those who served ninety days during the Civil war and who received an honorable discharge are entitled to a pension under this act provided they were married prior to June 27, 1890, dependence not being considered. This act granted an increase of pension to some 200,000 widows and children of deceased soldiers and sailors of the Civil war, the war with Mexico and the various Indian wars.

The number of pensioners on the roll is now slightly in excess of 950,000 and the average amount paid out in pensions is nearly $13,000,000.

Let it be borne in mind that all this pension legislation has been enacted by the party that George W. Kipp, present congressman from this district, does not belong to. His supporters say he has done much for the old soldier. Certain it is that his opportunity to do anything for the old soldier has been furnished him by the Republican party because the Republican party made the pension laws. If Bryan and a Democratic congress is chosen in November will the old soldier feel as sure as he does now that his interests will be carefully guarded in the future? For years the Democratic minority in congress has howled at what it has called the outrageous extravagance in the matter of pension appropriations. Suppose enough Democratic congressmen are chosen this November to give them control of the House, and then suppose they should proceed to repeal some of this pension legislation they have severely criticized the Republicans for passing. How would the old soldiers who are asked to support George W. Kipp like that?

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND PENSIONS.

The friends of Congressman George W. Kipp are busy telling the people what he has done for the old soldier. Mr. Kipp is entitled to whatever praise he has earned in this matter, and the Reporter-Journal will not try to disparage his efforts. The better he serves the old soldier the better we shall be pleased, but we desire to call the attention of our readers to the fact that the party Mr. Kipp belongs to is not the party the old soldier has looked to for aid in the past. It was the Republican party that inaugurated and passed the great body of pension legislation that is now a part of the law of the land. In the years that have passed since the Civil war the Republican party has passed pension laws under which more than three and one-half billion dollars have been paid to disabled veterans or to the survivors of those who gave their lives for their country. This pension system, a product of the policy of the Republican party, has no precedent in history and no equal in justice and generosity among the nations of the earth.

Mr. Kipp has done well in helping veterans get pensions, but what party made the laws under which it was possible for him to secure these pensions? The Republican party and not the Democratic, and let the voters of the Fourteenth district bear that fact everlastingly in memory. If the old soldier had depended on the party Mr. Kipp belongs to for his pension legislation during the past forty years it is mighty little he would have got.

WHO CREATED PENSION SYSTEM

Nearly all Union veterans with the party of Lincoln and Grant, the party which created and maintained the pension system under which nearly four thousand million dollars have been paid out to survivors of the Union armies and to the widows and orphans of soldiers who have passed away. It may interest Union veterans to know that the Democratic State of Virginia discriminates against them by exempting from the poll-tax as a prerequisite to vote those only who served in the army or navy of the Confederacy, no similar exemption being provided for Union soldiers of whom there are many in the State. This is quite a recent change in the Constitution of Virginia, having gone into force in 1904, when the American people showed what they thought of Democratic rule in Nation and State by piling up a record-breaking majority for Roosevelt and Fairbanks. There is every indication that Taft and Sherman will be borne to success on another tidal wave, and survivors of the Union armies, who still number a very large proportion of the electorate, will undoubtedly vote for the Republican party, which has always stood by the veterans, and against the party which holds the Union soldier to be less worthy of the ballot than the former Confederate.—Elmira Advertiser.

THE DISTRICT IS RIGHT.

Here in Towanda—Mr. Kipp's home—there is considerable Kipp talk. If one believed it all he might be led into the opinion that Kipp will come close to going to congress again. The Pratt men are not talking as much as their opponents, but there are a good many more of them and they will all be at the polls on November third. There are no fights in the party, the candidate is a good one, the district is strongly Republican and this is presidential year. When the undivided Republican strength is shown on November third the local Democracy will discover what it should have been made to see two years ago—that the Fourteenth district is not a good one for a Democrat to try for Congress in. Bradford county will give Pratt an old-time majority.

To fail to elect Mr. Taft would be a calamity to the country, and it would be folly, while electing him, yet at the same time to elect a congress hostile to him, a congress which under the influence of partisan leadership would be certain to thwart and baffle him on every possible occasion.—President Roosevelt.

HOW PENSIONS ARE GOT.

One might be led to believe by the loud and frequent claims of the supporters of Congressman Kipp that when a soldier from the Fourteenth congressional district is allowed a pension it is done by the grace and say-so of Mr. Kipp. It might be imagined that when a soldier's claim for a pension reaches Washington it is referred at once to Congressman Kipp and if he says yes the claim is allowed, and if he says no it is not allowed, and that ends the whole matter. In other words that the committee on pensions is Congressman Kipp and Congressman Kipp is the committee on pensions. We imagine from the talk of some Towanda former Republicans who are now electioneering for Mr. Kipp that they believe the above state of affairs exists. But it don't, by a long shot.

Far be it from the Reporter-Journal to detract from whatever good name the present congressman has earned in connection with pension getting for veterans, but we shall insist throughout this campaign that when it comes to putting through a pension claim Congressman Kipp is not the whole thing. There are others. From the amount and kind of gas that is being belloyed off dairy by Mr. Kipp's clackers it would not surprise us if by the last of next month they are saying that Mr. Kipp is a bigger man than Roosevelt, has got the entire sixteen other members of the committee on pensions skinned to a point on ability, energy and generosity, is going to double all the pensions to Fourteenth district soldiers, and then pay them out of his own pocket.

Be it known to all old soldiers and young soldiers everywhere, that Congressman Kipp is a member of the committee on pensions of the sixtieth congress, and that there are sixteen other members, making a total membership of seventeen. That ten of these members are Republicans and the other seven are Democrats, and that, therefore, the committee on pensions is a Republican committee. That the committee can pass on claims when there is a quorum—nine members—present, and not unless there is a quorum present. That all the seven Democratic members taken together can't get a claim through if there are no Republicans present to help them, and that the ten Republican members can award a pension to a soldier if every mother's son of the Democratic members should stay away from the committee meeting. That nothing can be done finally in this committee unless by the consent and aid of Republicans. That after a claim is passed by the pension committee it goes to the Republican House where there is a Republican majority, and is passed by Republican votes. That after that it goes to the Republican senate where it is again passed by Republican votes, and after that it falls into the hands of a Republican president who signs it.

It will be seen that the process of getting a pension is under Republican care and supervision from the day the claim starts in committee room till the soldier gets his first voucher cashed. And back all the way to the rebellion, through a long line of pension legislation, it has been Republican pension committees, congresses, senates and presidents that have stood by the old soldier and remunerated him for his loss of health and earning power, and aided his widow and children after he has gone, while the Democratic minority in congress has growled and criticised because pension appropriations were so large.

We imagine the old soldier of the Fourteenth congressional district knows as a general thing which side his bread is buttered on, knows Mr. Kipp isn't the entire pension department, knows his application for a pension will be safer with a Republican congress than with a Democratic one, and knows enough to vote for Col. Charles C. Pratt, the Republican candidate for congress, on November third.

We are having a bad drouth and it extends all over the Fourteenth congressional district. A good many Republican pastures are grassless and a large number of Republican wells have gone dry, but we are more than glad to state that up to the time of going to press no Republican votes have been spoiled. All reports say that the drouth of Democratic votes which has prevailed throughout the district most of the time for forty or fifty years will extend many years more. The hopes that were entertained by a few that there would be a shower of Kipp votes on November third similar to the one experienced two years ago have been dissipated.

Mr. Kipp was elected two years ago because there was a factional fight in the Republican party, but things are different this time. There is harmony all around the district, the Republican candidate is a first-class man in every respect, and this is the year of the presidential election. It is not likely that the "old Wilnot district" with a strong candidate, no divisions in the party, a Republican majority under normal conditions of four thousand or upwards, is going to send a Democrat to congress. The district has not been in the habit of doing that way in the past, and it is not going to form that habit now.

To elect Mr. Taft and at the same time to elect a congress pledged to support him is the only way in which to perpetuate the policy of the Government as now carried on. I feel that all the aid that can be given to this policy by every good citizen should be given, for this is far more than a merely partisan matter.—President Roosevelt.

AS LABOR SEES HIM.

The United Labor Journal of Harrisburg, Pa., in its issue of Sept. 3 had the following editorial notice of the Republican candidate for congress from the Fourteenth district:

"Hon. Charles C. Pratt will receive the large popular vote of his district, not because he is a Republican or because of the political company he keeps, but rather because the rank and file of the plain people believe he is the proper man to represent the district in congress. This publication is non-partisan and in its advocacy of certain candidates wishes to be thoroughly understood as declining to set the seal of its approval upon any political platform of any political organization. We believe the day is past when the intelligence of voters should be underrated by being asked to vote a straight ticket because it stands for any political party. Such men as Hon. Charles C. Pratt command the respect and confidence of the people, not because of the political party with which they are affiliated, but rather because of their own formidable personal character and their known attitude toward the great questions that affect most vitally the welfare and best interests of the people as a whole. Political pirates masquerading under the banners of various political parties have long been a menace and draw-back to the cause of good government. Hon. Charles C. Pratt will be elected by an overwhelming majority because the people have faith in him. This is particularly true of the workmen who constitute the majority of the voters in his district. He is known as a statesman who accomplishes things for the common good."

"From careful investigation of the record, personal interviews with him upon vital subjects pertaining to labor, and from opinions voiced by the leading representatives of the working people in his district, we are satisfied that the wage earners would make a great mistake should they fail to throw their combined strength in favor of Hon. Charles C. Pratt for congress in the Fourteenth district."

"It was Hon. C. C. Pratt who in a speech at Harrisburg said 'there was enough blood shed at Homestead to wash the steps of all the libraries Carnegie ever built.' His sympathies have always been clearly on the side of labor, and he has plainly shown by his acts that he has the courage of his convictions."

WHY THIS CHANGE?

The Sayre Times-Record is doing what it can to elect George W. Kipp, the Democratic candidate for congress. It is throwing its influence against Mr. Pratt, the Republican nominee. And why—what is the reason? The Times-Record was not always thus. Why this change—what is the reason? Some months ago, before the primaries, the Times-Record was a supporter of Mr. Pratt for the nomination. And it didn't go half way in its support. It went all the way and more too. It was more zealous in Mr. Pratt's support than any other newspaper in the district. Bradford county had a candidate for congress in the primaries and his name was J. Andrew Wilt. But so zealous for Mr. Pratt was the Times-Record that it positively refused to print in its columns an announcement card, a paid advertisement for Mr. Wilt, stating simply that he was a candidate for the nomination. It is the custom of all newspapers, of whatever political faith, to print the announcement cards of candidates for office, no matter what party the candidate belongs to. But to the surprise of the entire newspaper fraternity, of Mr. Wilt, of the Times-Record readers, of everybody, the editor told Mr. Wilt he couldn't tell the people in his columns that he was a candidate for congress. Mr. Pratt was nominated and we supposed no newspaper in the district would whoop it up for him to beat the Times-Record. And now the Times-Record is opposing him and earnestly advocating the election of George W. Kipp, the Democratic nominee. What is the reason of this change? What is this reason? What is the reason?

PENSIONERS AND PARTIES.

To hear some persons talk one might think that Mr. Kipp was the only congressman that ever helped an old soldier get a pension. If Mr. Kipp has been kind to the old soldier the Reporter-Journal is glad of it, but the party he belongs to has never done overmuch for the veterans of the Union army. The principal occupation of the Democrats in congress during the last forty years has been to find fault with the Republican majority because its pension appropriations were too high. The Republican soldiers of the Fourteenth district will do well to bear in mind that Col. Pratt, the Republican nominee, will do as much for them in the matter of securing pensions as Mr. Kipp, and, moreover, that he belongs to the party which has done for the old soldier all that has been done in the way of pension legislation.

All the candidates on the Republican ticket from president to coroner are worthy of your support. Do what you can for the ticket between now and November, and for goodness sake don't get into the habit of thinking it a hardship that you are called upon to vote. It is your duty to vote at all the elections—primary, township, state, national—every one of them, and it more than your duty, it is your privilege. What the fathers of the nation fought for the privilege of doing in the days that tried men's souls should not be deemed a hardship by their descendants. If it is, so much the worse for the descendants.

If the Democratic party had been in power since the War of the Rebellion as much as the Republican party has, does any old soldier in the Fourteenth congressional district now drawing a pension believe he would have been as generously dealt with as he has been by Republican congress?

REPUBLICANS ARE IN LINE.

The cordial endorsement for re-nomination of Governor Hughes by his late opponents in New York State, the fraternizing of the Republican factions in Ohio, the announcement that Vice President Fairbanks is about to take the stump in Indiana, that Senator LaFollette is about to do the same in Wisconsin, and that all the leading Republican leaders are rallying to the support of the National ticket, is significant. It means that apathy and overconfidence in the Republican ranks are giving way to harmony and active work, and that these, the greatest dangers to the party's success, are fast being removed.

It is altogether safe to predict that the situation will steadily improve to the end. Usually, Republicans do the hardest part of their work within a few weeks of the voting day. If the election had taken place within a month of the time when the Democrats accepted the Liberal Republican ticket and platform in 1872, Greeley and not Grant, would probably have been elected. The effervescence in the Democratic canvass had all evaporated, however, long before November came, and nearly everybody saw that the Republicans would sweep the country. Garfield and Arthur were beaten in the indications in September when Vermont's small Republican majority and Maine's Democratic victory came to dishearten the Republican National leaders. The Republicans, tough, impressed all the sulkers into service after the Maine disaster, the tide was turned, and Garfield carried the country. Probably Bryan would have been elected in 1896 if the voting had taken place in August or September, instead of in November, but his boom went to pieces when the people got a chance to inquire what he stood for. Parker created a sensation in 1904 by his gold telegram to the St. Louis convention, and for a week or two he seemed to be strong with the country. In 1908 Bryan's greatest strength was immediately after Denver put him in the field.

It will do no harm for the Republicans to place Indiana, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and West Virginia in the doubtful states. This will serve to arouse the party from any feeling of apathy which it may fall into. The Republicans have a large majority of the people on a full vote. The duty of the campaign managers will be to get that vote out. Confidence is an excellent thing for the party to have, but if it should lead any considerable number of voters in each precinct to stay away from the polls it might easily prove disastrous. Even with a 2,500,000 plurality like that of Roosevelt in 1904, the staying at home of a few Republicans in each voting precinct in the Northern and Western states would have reduced the Republican lead sufficiently to have made the result close. It would be unsafe to count on a repetition in 1908 of the tidal wave of 1904. Bryan will undoubtedly poll a larger vote than Parker. He had a far larger following in the West than Parker had, while he is not likely to be any weaker in the East than Parker was. Carelessness among Republican voters this year is a peril which should be guarded against. The size of the Republican majority is a detail which will be sure to mean a complete ascendancy for at least four years more, and thus bring Republican prosperity to us again in its old time measure.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENED.

Republicans who attended the meeting of the Towanda Republican Club Tuesday evening now have no doubt that an active campaign has been begun in this county, and that the party is united and working for victory. The attendance was large, the speeches good and there was manifested a spirit of earnestness and confidence that presages an old time Republican majority in this county next November.

The address of John C. Ingham, Esq., was a clear and comprehensive exposition of the political issues of the day and a convincing argument why Taft and the policies represented by him should be preferred to those of his opponent, while the speech of R. A. Mercer, Esq., was an eloquent and inspiring exhortation to Republicans to stand by their principles by giving the whole ticket loyal and aggressive support. Mr. Foyle in his brief address urged loyalty to the whole ticket.

The work of the Towanda Republican club is already showing good results. It has injected new life and energy into our local politics which are extending to other parts of the county. This is as it should be. Conceded that the result in Pennsylvania and Bradford county is a foregone conclusion, yet there is no part of the nation where the duty of pushing vigorously the claims of the Republican candidates on the people and bringing out the fullest vote for them is more binding than right here in this Congressional District. No county has a deeper interest in the settlement of the great issues at stake by sober and careful judgment than Bradford; and Towanda above all places, is vitally concerned in that cause. It is for our own credit and welfare that we shall set the example to the rest of the county of pushing an earnest and vigorous campaign and insuring a crushing majority for the Republican ticket.

The Republican Committee throughout the county should, therefore, use urgency and vigor in bringing the active campaign into prompt operation. The present danger of the Republican party is lassitude and overconfidence. The era of inaction should be ended and in its place should be inaugurated earnest work without cessation till a full vote is polled in November.

MR. HEARST'S BOOM.

Mr. Hearst must enjoy the role of bull in a china shop, or he would not exhibit such zest and industry in smashing "the political crockery." Certainly, anyone with a taste in that direction, must feel it gratified when he is able to turn from his usual advocacy of lambasting Bryan with denunciations of the full Hearst delirium to explode a boom under the political fabric of Joseph Benson Foraker.

His revelations have already proven dynamite to the Ohio Senator. It can not but startle the people to read written instructions by John D. Archbold to the United States Senator as to legislation that is obnoxious to the Standard Oil Company, a selection for Supreme Judge that will be grateful to it, and of the necessary suppression of a candidate for Attorney General who has offended the Standard by too vigorous work in the prosecution of a quo warranto suit. Especially when these instructions are co-temporaneous with remittances of sums trivial to the Standard, but very imposing to the ordinary politician, it carries suggestions that in the present state of the public mind will not conciliate public opinion to either that stripe of politics or that branch of corporate activity.

The exposure can not hurt Mr. Taft. It will rather rebound to his credit when the full history of the case is known. The breach between Roosevelt and Taft on one side and Senator Foraker on the other, had its root in the efforts of the administration to stop just such transactions as the exposure of Hearst has shown that the Senator was engaged in, and unless there can be prompt and clear proof of the sinister meaning of the documents made public by Hearst, they can not fail to destroy Foraker's chances of re-election to the Senate.

These revelations of Mr. Hearst reflect much credit both on the President and Mr. Taft. The Ohio Senator has fought them fiercely at every stage of their public careers. Many people thought he was a Standard Oil Hessian, but it took proof to turn out of the high party councils. The public now has a clear idea of why Foraker so bitterly opposed President Roosevelt's railroad, trust and other programmes in Congress. It sees why he fought to the last ditch against Taft and the continuation of the Roosevelt policies. He was hired and paid to do it, the same as Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, who is smirched as badly as Foraker, was hired to do other things for the Standard Oil Company. Haskell is the man appointed by Bryan as Chairman of the Platform Committee in the Denver Convention and Haskell is now Treasurer of the Democratic Committee.

THE STATE SENATORSHIP.

In Moses Shields of Wyoming county the Republicans of the Twenty-third Senatorial district have a candidate who should receive the support of every Republican voter in the district. He has the advantage of experience as he has already served two terms in the legislature. He was chosen a member of the House of Representatives in 1904 for Wyoming county and was re-elected in 1906. He served on many important committees, principally on the Judiciary General committee, and was the only lay member on the committee, the other twenty-eight members being lawyers. In 1907 upon the request of the old members of the committee he was re-appointed. In February, 1907, he was appointed a member of the Capitol Investigating commission and served continuously until August 16, 1907, the last four months without pay other than actual expenses for car fare and hotel bills. That this experience in legislative matters makes him a more valuable servant of his district than a new and untried man can not be doubted. Mr. Shields is held in the highest esteem by his friends and neighbors and by his constituency in the entire district. He deserves the full party vote and the Reporter-Journal doubts not that he will receive it.

The Lehigh Valley Coal company intends to open at Schuylkill county next month a school for employees where they will be taught the various problems of the present day and instructed in the best means for preventing deaths and accidents. This is a good move in the right direction.

WHAT PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT SAYS.

On the first page of the Reporter-Journal this week appears a letter from President Roosevelt to Hon. William B. McKinley, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, setting forth in well chosen words the necessity of not only electing a Republican President but a Republican congress to support him. The argument is unanswerable, and coming as it does on the eve of an election and from the chief executive of the nation will attract much attention and be widely read. The facts and the argument are particularly applicable to the congressional contest now on in this district. A Republican candidate in a strong Republican district is opposed for congress by a man who has never been anything but a Democrat, and who never will act with any political party but the Democratic party. This man is the incumbent and a man of wealth, and it was because of the lavish use of money and a factional fight in the Republican party that he was chosen to represent this Republican district two years ago. A presidential election approaches, and the line of battle in both the nation and the district is clearly drawn. We commend President Roosevelt's timely letter to the careful attention of every voter in the Fourteenth congressional district.

If the anxiety for useful knowledge was as keen as the thirst for vicious scandal this old world would be pretty near Paradise.

TWO LARGE VERDICTS

C. W. Schwoerer and R. R. Rockwell Win Suits Against Lehigh

BOTH INJURED ON RAILROAD.

Schwoerer Was Struck By Milk Train at Wyalusing, While Rockwell Was Injured in a Wreck While a Student Fireman.

Two Bradford countians were awarded verdicts against the Lehigh Valley in Common Pleas Court Saturday. Charles W. Schwoerer was given a verdict of $20,000 for injuries which crippled him for life, and Robert R. Rockwell was awarded $6,000 for injuries also received on the railroad. The Schwoerer verdict is one of the largest injury awards ever made by a Bradford county jury.

The Schwoerer Case.

On February 2, 1907, Mr. Schwoerer was in Wyalusing, and had started to drive home with his team. On the Welles crossing of the Lehigh in Wyalusing, he was struck by a milk train, his team killed and he was so badly injured that for a long time he was confined in the Packer hospital with his life hanging by a thread. His injuries were of such a nature that he has not only been crippled for life, but incapacitated from most every kind of work.

The claim of the plaintiff was for $25,000 damages in that the Lehigh company was negligent, in that the engineer did not sound the whistle or bell at the crossing, and that the train was running at a speed of about 60 miles an hour. Schwoerer claimed that he stopped before reaching the crossing in obedience of "Stop, Look and Listen" sign, but heard nothing and drove on to the track where he was struck.

The defendant company set up the claim of contributory negligence, and also put in much evidence to show that the whistle and bell had both been sounded, but the evidence of the plaintiff was to the contrary in this matter. The case was on trial from Tuesday until Friday evening when the jury returned a sealed verdict which was opened in court Saturday morning.

Under the law in Pennsylvania, larger damages can be recovered for injuries, than where death is the result, and the first ballot of the jury showed seven of the jurors were in favor of a verdict ranging from $15,000 to $19,000 while the other five were for from $20,000 to $25,000, making the average about $20,000, which was the verdict. The case will probably be carried to the higher courts.

The attorneys were Lilley & Wilson and Hoyt & Schrier for the plaintiff, and Henry Streeter and Hon. W. T. Davies for the defendant.

Rockwell Case.

Robert Rockwell, who was given a verdict for $6,000 against the Lehigh, was a student fireman in 1904. While making his first trip over the road, the engine on which he was riding, ran into the rear of another train at Meshoppen, and he was badly injured. The case was called for trial last Monday, but was adjourned on account of the illness of one of the jurors until Friday afternoon when it was resumed, and completed Saturday evening, the jury returning a verdict for the plaintiff about 11 o'clock Saturday evening. The claim was for $10,000.

The attorneys were I. N. Evans, and C. C. Yocum for the plaintiff, and Henry Streeter and Hon. W. T. Davies for the railroad company.

Pennsylvania Electric Association.

The first annual election of the Pennsylvania Electric association, composed of electric companies operating plants in the central part of the Keystone state, was held last week at Eagles Mere. The organization of the association was perfected, and the following officers were elected for the year: President, L. H. Conklin of Conneville; vice-president, E. F. McCabe of Lewistown; secretary and treasurer, E. L. Smith of Towanda. The executive committee will be composed of the officers and the following: A. R. Granger of Chester, K. A. Fichton of Reading, C. H. Orr of Pittsburg, and J. H. Perkins of Wilkes Barre. There was a large attendance of the members of the association, and two delightful days were spent at the famous resort.

Fishing at Lake Carey.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stark of Pittston, made the prize catch of pickerel in Lake Carey, Wyoming county, on Tuesday evening. They landed 15 fish in two and one-half hours. Among the mess was one particularly fine specimen of the pickerel species, both in size and color. It measured 25½ inches in length and weighed four full pounds. It was caught by Mrs. Stark, who was fishing with a six-ounce fly rod, with a trout hook, baited with a small minnow. The catch was made in the lower section of the lake, known as the flow pond.

Marriage Licenses.

Marriage licenses were Thursday granted to Howard Elmer Bishop and Mabel E. Corbin, both of Sayre; William Corey of Wyalusing township, and Zelphia Brown of Terry township; Michael Houz and Kate Wueck, both of Sayre.

Attending School at Mansfield.

The following New Albany young people are attending school at the State Normal at Mansfield this term: Misses Grace Corson, Mamie Ormsby, Iona Silvers, Catherine Brink, Minnie Billings and Mr. Thomas Murphy.

GET SALTY SENTENCES.

Two Potter County Men Sentenced to Long Terms of Imprisonment.

One of the most scathing arraignments ever delivered from a court in Potter county was listened to last Friday by a full court room when Judge Ormerod imposed sentence upon Solomon Delaba and Earl Finch, the former having pleaded guilty to incest and criminal assault upon his daughter, and the latter having entered a similar plea upon a charge of burning the barn of Simeon Boon in Hector township. In sentencing the former the judge said:

"Mr. Dalba, in consideration of the fact that you have pleaded guilty and spared the humiliation of bringing your daughter upon the stand to face this court and jury, in addition to the crime you have already confessed as having been committed upon her, I will deduct two years from your sentence. You have robbed your daughter of the brightest jewel in her crown of womanhood. It would have been better for you had you taken a rifle and blew out your own brains before you committed this crime. You are sentenced to 13 years in the Western Penitentiary at Allegheny, Pa."

In the latter case, young Earl Finch a mere lad of the age of 20 years, who made an unfavorable appearance as he faced the court, and with a brave air, answered all questions, was sentenced to 20 years in the same institution.

In sentencing Finch, the court said: "I have had 30 years' experience in dealing with criminals. I thought I had met all kinds and classes, but you are the most degenerate, the most consummate, the most hardened criminal ever brought before me. I am going to impose upon you the severest sentence this court has ever placed against any man except for murder, and that is that you be confined in the penitentiary for 20 years."

ADDITION REFUSED.

Trustees of Packer Hospital Claim That Building is Not Right.

Says the Sayre correspondent of the Athens Evening News: "The addition to the Robert Packer hospital, built by John Bengier, the contractor who is also building the new Sayre town hall, stands without being used or accepted by the hospital authorities, the claim being made that the building is deficient in several respects and not up to the standard required by the contract."

"It is claimed that the work was skimped in many ways, and so the hospital trustees have refused to accept it. One fault arises from the columns placed in the front of the building. They are not according to the standard, have a larger number of grooves than specified, and are not of the proper shape."

"The porch also fails to come within the requirements in several ways. One of the principal objections arises from the floors which, the hospital authorities and the architect claim have not been finished in the manner required, and there are several other defects that are delaying the settlement of the matter."

Looking For Horse Thief.

J. A. Gilbert of Odessa, N. Y., arrived in Towanda last night and reported to Detective Hollon that he was in search of a horse and carriage which was stolen from him a short time ago. The party accused of the theft is Joe Bettis, a one-armed man, who is supposed to be visiting relatives in Bradford county. Bettis' right arm is off at the elbow and he wears a hook on the stump. The missing outfit is described as follows: A bay mare, weight about 800 pounds; black open road wagon with rubber tires and red running gear. Detective Hollon has charge of the case, and will endeavor to locate the missing property and the alleged thief.

Uster Wallops Waverly.

Before a large crowd of cheering fans Uster administered a crushing defeat to Waverly's crack team on Friday by a score of 14-5. Uster batted Wilbur to all corners of the lot while Davidson was an enigma to Waverly. Both teams played well in the field and pleased the fans with fast work. Davidson and Morrison were in the points for Uster, while Wilbur and Madigan worked for Waverly. This game closed the season for Uster and they are now looking forward to a fast team in 1909.

Score by innings:
Uster..... 6 2 0 0 3 2 1 0 x-14
Waverly..... 0 0 0 0 5 0 0 0-5

Papers Merged.

The Genung-Screeman Publishing company of Waverly, that publishes the Waverly Sun, has purchased the subscription list and good will of the Nichols Recorder, and the two will be merged. The Nichols section will be on a page by itself, and will be in charge of J. Byron Dixon, who up to this time has been the proprietor of the sheet. The subscribers of the Recorder will be served with the Sun.

Goes to Philadelphia.

Mrs. R. M. Tucker Russell, who has been housekeeper at the home of Hon. George Moscrip for the past four years, has gone to Philadelphia to live at the home of her brother, George W. Tucker. Mrs. Russell has made many warm friends during her stay of six years at Towanda and Burlington. Miss Olive Middaugh takes her place at Mr. Moscrip's.

Election Wager.

Two well known Towanda young men have made the first wheelbarrow wager of the present campaign. The loser is to wheel the winner from the Ward House to Platt's hotel in the first ward, and stand the expense of a banquet for 25.

DAVID CRAFT DEAD.

Noted Preacher and Historian Has Gone to His Reward.

PASSED AWAY AT ANGELICA, N. Y.

Preached Presbyterian Gospel for Many Years in Bradford County—Was the Author of Several Valuable Historical Works.

Rev. David Craft is no more. The venerable preacher, brilliant scholar and noted historian passed to his reward at his home in Angelica, N. Y., on Thursday evening of last week at 6:30. He had been in poor health for some time, but this last illness was of short duration.

He is survived by his wife, Jane E. Horton, daughter of the late George F. Horton of Terrytown, and one son, George H., of Denver, Col., and one daughter, Gail, of Angelica, N. Y.

Sketch of His Life.

Rev. David Craft was born in Carmel, Putnam county, N. Y., on Oct. 3, 1832. Therefore had he lived until the third day of next month, he would have been 76 years of age. He was a lineal descendant of Lieutenant Griffin Craft, who with his family, was an immigrant in the first company that came to Boston in July, 1630, and settled in Roxbury, now Boston, on a piece of land which has ever since been in the possession of descendants of the Craft family.

He graduated from Lafayette college, studied at Princeton and coming to Towanda in 1857, taught two years in the Susquehanna Collegiate Institute. In March, 1860, he was licensed to preach by the Susquehanna Presbytery, and in the following September became pastor of the Presbyterian churches at Wyalusing and Camp town, where he labored for over 30 years, resigning in 1891, to accept a call to the Lawrenceville, Pa., Presbyterian church, going from there to Angelica, N. Y.

During his stay at Wyalusing he was principal of the academy at that place for a number of terms. At the time of the recruiting of the 141st Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers he went out with General Maddill as a chaplain and after returning from the army, resumed his position as pastor of the church at Wyalusing.

He was prominently identified with the order of Odd Fellows and was district deputy of Bradford county and later became grand master of the state organization. He also belonged to the Masonic fraternity. Since the organization of the survivors of the 141st regiment, he has been its secretary and has attended all the annual reunions of that regiment including the one held at Wyalusing on Aug. 27, which was the 25th annual reunion of that regiment.

Noted Historian.

Rev. Mr. Craft was a noted historian. In 1866 he wrote and published his "Wyalusing," which included a history of his church and of the early settlement of the town. This was received with so much favor that the Bradford County Historical society prevailed upon him to undertake the history of the county, which was published in 1877. In 1879 he delivered the historical address at each of the celebrations of the one hundredth anniversary of the "Sullivan Expedition Against the Western Indians," held at Elmira, Waterloo, Genesee and Aurora, in the state of New York. These were combined in a continuous narrative, and published by the Seneca County Historical society in 1880; rewritten and enriched with numerous geographical and biographical notes and was published by the state of New York in 1885. This work received the unqualified approbation of eminent military men and historians, such as Gen. W. T. Sherman, Sidney Howard Gay, W. C. Bryant, and others.

In 1887 he published the history of the One Hundred and Forty-first Regiment, which, by common consent, ranks among the very best of regimental histories. In 1891 he wrote the early history of the city of Scranton, published by H. W. Crew of Washington, D. C. Besides these he has been an almost constant contributor to the press of articles of a historical and literary character. In the midst of these active literary labors Mr. Craft has had charge of a large and laborious field, where he performed, most acceptable and successful work as a pastor. He has been also active in promoting educational and moral society, frequently called to speak at teachers' associations, temperance meetings, etc.

Bradford County Directory.

During October, readers of this paper may purchase copies of the County directory (edition 1907-8) for $2.19 delivered, or for $2.00 at the Court House, Towanda. It contains the names of more than 24,000 persons, together with their postoffice (and route) addresses and occupations and much other information. There is included an up-to-date map showing streams, township divisions, roads, R. F. D. routes, postoffices, and hamlets. No household can afford to do without the information this book contains. Address Ida K. Layton, Towanda, Pa.

Enjoyable Strawride.

A strawride to Stevens' grove Saturday afternoon was very much enjoyed by the following young people: Majorie Holmes, Nellie Hoffman, Elizabeth Talte, Eulalie Kizer, Ellen Pratt, Charlotte McCabe, Fannie Parsons, and Carl Shiner, Paul Shiner, Thomas Holmes, Hale Coddling, Watt Mercur, Will Little and Hicks Jennings. In the evening they were entertained by Miss Evelyn Little in honor of Miss Bernice Jackson of DuShore.

HORSE THIEF CAPTURED.

Joseph Bettis Taken Into Custody in Warren Township.

Joseph Bettis, a one armed man, from near Odessa, N. Y., is in the county jail on Pine street, awaiting requisition papers to take him back to New York state to answer to the charge of horse stealing.

On Wednesday of this week, J. A. Gilbert of Odessa, N. Y., came to Towanda and reported to Detective Hollon the loss of a wagon, which had been taken by a thief who had stolen a horse belonging to one of his neighbors. Joseph Bettis, a one armed man, recently released from the Monroe, N. Y., jail was suspected, and as he had relatives in Bradford county, it was thought he might head this way.

Detective Hollon took charge of the case, and learning that Bettis had relatives in Warren township, notified Constable I. S. Beebe of LeRaysville, to be on the lookout for the man with the one arm. Thursday Constable Beebe located Bettis, horse, wagon and all, and immediately placed him under arrest and brought him to Towanda where he was arraigned before Squire Orcutt and committed to the county jail for a period not to exceed 90 days during which time requisition papers will be secured and he will be taken back to New York state to answer to the charge of horse stealing.

Bettis, after taking the horse and carriage drove to Waverly, where he was joined by a woman, and the two drove to Towanda, thence to Warren township where they were visiting relatives.

Mr. Gilbert, owner of the stolen wagon, took the outfit, and Friday afternoon, started on the return trip to Odessa.

WOMAN BADLY BURNED.

Mrs. Owen of Green's Landing, Sent to Packer Hospital.

While holding a pan of burning sulphur near a screen door to kill flies, Mrs. C. E. Owen was seriously, but not fatally burned at her home in Greens Landing Thursday morning. She was taken to the Packer hospital. Flies had gathered in the screen door in great numbers, and as has been her practice, Mrs. Owen ignited a pan of sulphur and held it against the door, the fumes issuing therefrom killing the insects.

A draft blew the fire towards her and before she realized what had happened her clothing was in flames. She screamed for help and her son rushed from the barn. Wrapping a coat about the unfortunate woman he smothered the flames. A doctor was called and after applying emergency remedies, ordered her removal to the hospital.

Mrs. Owen was terribly burned on the back from her shoulders to her hips and on the left hand and arm.

Taking Testimony.

Charles M. Hall, Democratic candidate for Prothonotary in Bradford county, was in DuShore again Saturday, Sept. 12, but not looking after political features. He was engaged as a law stenographer in taking testimony in a case in the United States Court of Colorado, in which is a fund arising from the sale of lands of W. H. Blight, on a mortgage given to P. Connor. This fund is claimed by the DuShore National bank. A. Walsh, Esq., and J. H. Cronin, Esq., are the attorneys for the contestants of the fund. Mr. Hall was elected Register and Recorder of Bradford county as a Democrat in the 1890 fusion, and is a veteran stenographer, but does not seem to take his candidacy this year very seriously. He spoke at DuShore for W. J. Bryan in 1896.—DuShore Review.

Roads Damaged by Autos.

Says the Troy Gazette-Register: "The damage to good roads by 'scorching' autos is seen in the direction of Alba in numberless stones about the size of walnuts brought to the surface by the suction of the swiftly moving pneumatic tires. The speed limit will need to be enforced if greater damage is not to follow, as every stone taken out loosens others."

Holcomb House Leased.

L. E. Wiggins, a well known and respected citizen of Wyalusing, has leased the Holcomb House, on South Main street, and will take possession as soon as the license transfer is made.

BUSY BILL.

Story of a Ten Dollar William, and Incidentally a Moral.

Mr. Brown keeps a boarding house. Around his table sat his wife, Mrs. Brown; the village milliner, Mrs. Andrews; Mr. Black, the baker; Mr. Jordan, a carpenter, and Mr. Hadley, a flour, feed and lumber merchant. Mr. Brown took ten dollars out of his pocket and handed it to Mrs. Brown with the remark that there was $10 toward the $20 he promised. Mrs. Brown handed the bill to Mrs. Andrews, the milliner, saying "that pays for my new bonnet." Mrs. Andrews in turn passed it to Mr. Jordan, remarking that it would pay for the carpenter work he had for her. Mr. Jordan handed it to Mr. Hadley, requesting his receipted bill for flour, feed and lumber. Mr. Hadley gave the bill back to Mr. Brown saying, "that pays $10 on my board." Mr. Brown again passed it to Mrs. Brown, remarking that he had now paid her the $20 he had promised her. She in turn paid Mr. Black to settle her bread and pastry account. Mr. Black handed it to Mr. Hadley, asking credit for the amount on his flour bill. Mr. Hadley again returned it to Mr. Brown, with the remark that it settled for that month's board, whereupon Mr. Brown put it back in his pocket, observing that he had not supposed a greenback would go so far.

But suppose Mrs. Brown had sent to a mail order house for her new bonnet, then the $10 would have gone out of town and never come back.

The moral: Spend your money at home.—Meshoppen Enterprise.

"SHANG" DIGGERS DO WELL.

With Rattlesnake Oil as a Side Line, The Industry Prospers.

It is estimated that in the three counties of Clinton, Potter and Lycoming $3,000 has been made this summer by ginseng diggers. The absence of fire from the "slashes" and timber sections for a year or more, and a fine season of rain up to the middle of August, resulted in an unusual crop of "shang," which nowadays is bringing to the diggers $6 a pound for the dried root. Druggists buy the ginseng and ship it to New York wholesalers for the export trade.

The family of Jonas Button, living on the old Coudersport pike, gathered and sold 38 pounds of the root in four weeks. This family consists of father, mother and three half grown boys. They went into the deep woods, built a camp and lived there during their month of "shang" harvesting. The boys took up the rattlesnake oil business as a side line and killed 18 rattlers, getting nearly an ounce of fat out of each snake. Rattlesnake oil sells at 50 cents an ounce.

Some of the mountaineers who are raising ginseng under cover this season, harvested substantial crops, but the wild variety brings the higher price.

Bradford County Butter.

Bradford county is holding its own in the state college bi-monthly butter contests. While first honors went to O. D. Mott of Edinburg, with a score of 94, two of those in the 93 class were residents of Western Bradford, H. W. Saxton of Granville Summit, and L. H. Cooley of Burlington, Edwin A. Keeler of East Smithfield, and James E. Dean of Towanda, were also in the contest, the former's butter scoring 90 and the latter's 92 out of a possible 100. Perhaps the greatest values of the contest lies in the criticisms sent to the contestants, telling them wherein their contributions were at fault and signifying a remedy.

Planing Mill Running.

Fires were started under the boilers at the DuShore planing mill last Wednesday and the machines already installed were put in motion. The men have been engaged in turning out the flooring for the building. It is expected that the mill will be completed by the time winter sets in and will be working full force.

FAIR WILL BE GREAT

Annual Exhibition at East Towanda to be Best Ever.

BETTER RACES & ATTRACTIONS

Increase in Purses Will Bring Fastest Horses in This Section to the Fair—Railroads Will Give Special Rates and Service.

The great Bradford county fair next week at East Towanda, will be the biggest and best ever held under the auspices of the society. The dates of the exhibition are Sept. 29 and 30, and Oct. 1 and 2. The arrangements are practically complete, and it is safe to say no fair ever held in Northern Pennsylvania will equal this big exhibition.

Free Attractions.

The free attractions promise to be the best ever put on at this well known pleasure ground, special mention of which will be made in these columns during the week.

Fast Horses.

The largest string of fast race horses ever seen in this section have entered in the various races and as the purses have been materially increased, lovers of good horses are assured of plenty of sport.

Special Exhibits.

The exhibit which is to be made by the Pennsylvania State College is a big show in itself and consists of all the products raised by the Agricultural Department of this well known institution. This exhibit will be in charge of

GATHERING OF THE CLANS.

Many Bradford County Families Held Annual Reunions.

The following family gatherings are of recent date:

Northrup.

The first annual reunion of the Northrup family was held in Weston grove, Sept. 19. There were 125 in attendance and all report a most enjoyable time. At the business meeting the following officers were elected: President, Guy Northrup; vice-president, Albert Northrup; secretary, Flora M. Wheatley; treasurer, Stephen P. Cox. The date for the next reunion was changed to the last Saturday in August.

Towner.

The sixth annual reunion of the Towner family was held in L. W. Towner's grove on Saturday, Sept. 5. A large number were present, who enjoyed a splendid program consisting of songs, recitations and several addresses given by Rev. F. J. Niles, Rev. N. W. Barnes, Rev. William Towner and Dr. D. B. Towner. Dinner was served, and then a business meeting was called to order by the president, L. W. Towner. A vote of thanks was given to Rev. J. B. Davis for his emblem of flowers, which was in the shape of a "T" and very beautiful. It was decided to hold the next reunion at Ulster.

Reunion at Ulster.

The annual reunion of two companies of the 57th Pennsylvania Volunteers was held at Ulster, Sept. 17, and was a very enjoyable affair. There were 17 of the "old boys" present and a goodly number of visitors. Business meeting called to order about 11:30 by Hon. Robert Edmiston. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, E. S. Rolls of Athens; vice president, Henry Forbes, Sheshequin; secretary and treasurer, J. W. Allen, Rome. After the business meeting, a fine chicken pie dinner was served in the Presbyterian church by the ladies, after which a number of splendid speeches were given by Rev. J. B. Davis, Rev. Sawtelle, Hon. Robert Edmiston and Mr. Legg of Candor, N. Y., and recitations by Miss Merrill and Mrs. J. W. Allen. Mr. Joslin made the address of welcome and G. W. Miller responded. Next meeting place will be at Sayre, the third Thursday in August, 1909.

Mills Reunion.

Thirty descendants of Silas and Ellen Mills met at the home of Mrs. Violetta Boyle, at North Towanda, last Saturday. Every one present had an enjoyable time.

Ward Family Reunion.

The fourth annual reunion of the Ward family was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ward, at Thompson Hill, Pa., on Saturday, Sept. 5. The day was fine and there were 80 in attendance. While some familiar faces were missed, those who had the pleasure of attending had a very pleasant time listening to music by the phonograph and recitations by several of the children. Having relieved the tables of their load of good things to eat the business meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Mark Ward, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: President, James Ward of Waverly; vice-president, George Ward, Thompson Hill; secretary, Mrs. Helen Warner, Elmira; treasurer, Mrs. Mark Ward, Burlington. Relatives were present from Waverly, Elmira, Troy, East Troy, Burlington, Fairview, Granville, Hector, Watkins, Horseheads, and Berrington. The reunion next year on the first Saturday in September, will be held at George Ward's, Thompson Hill, Pa.

Gard Reunion.

The eighth annual reunion of the descendants of George and Anna Gard was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Post at Myersburg, on Saturday, Sept. 12, 1908. The day was perfect, except for the dust and 36 guests enjoyed the hospitality of the host and hostess. The tables were spread in the dining room with all the good things imaginable and at 12:30 all did ample justice to the bountiful dinner. After dinner a business meeting was called and officers elected for the ensuing year: President, Walter Gard; vice president, John Schultz; secretary, Gertrude Schultz. The following programme was carried out: Song by the company, "Blessed Be the Tie;" recitation, "An Old Woman's Complaint," by Helen Schraeder; song, "Mid the Fields of Snowy Cotton," by Mrs. Sterling Brown; recitation, "Robbie Playing Checkers," by Myrtle Schraeder; song, "Only remembered," by Mrs. B. J. Post; recitations, "Caleb's Courtship," and "Whistling in Heaven" by Mrs. Henry Schultz, after which the company adjourned to meet the last Thursday in August, 1909, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Schultz.

There is something radically wrong with the mental arrangements of the person who is too anxious to believe ill of his neighbor.

LAQUIN BRIEFS.

Doings in the Lumber City, Social and Otherwise.

Hon. William C. Donlon was transacting business in town and greeting old acquaintances Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. S. M. Sarver, pastor of the Methodist church of this place, will deliver his farewell sermon next Sunday evening at 7:30. The reverend gentleman is very much esteemed and will be greatly missed by the majority of his congregation and especially the young people.

The forest fires which have been raging in this section for the past two weeks are now completely under control.

Francis K. Donlon, who is attending the Towanda Business college, spent Saturday and Sunday in town.

Mrs. Isaac Newell is visiting her parents and other relatives in Lopez.

Dr. C. Melvin Coon is slowly recovering from an attack of grip.

Miss Mary Deegan is spending several days visiting relatives and friends at Rossiter and Ridgway and other points.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. W. T. Black, Wednesday afternoon. All are cordially invited to attend.

Clyde Ayers is visiting friends at Oswego, N. Y.

The Misses Black have resumed their studies at Dickinson Seminary.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church held an ice cream social in their tent Saturday evening. All who were in attendance report having a good time.

Miss Stella Hill spent Sunday with relatives in Barclay.

Andrew Allen left for Williamsport Sunday to visit his brother Richard, who submitted to an operation for appendicitis recently at the Williamsport City hospital.

The Young Ladies' Social club of Laquin gave a leap year reception in Laquin hall Saturday evening, which was most thoroughly enjoyed by all attending. About 25 couple were present and several up-to-date amusements and games of various sorts were indulged in. As some of the young ladies of the club are getting in close proximity with the quarter-century mark there is considerable rivalry displayed when a strange young man arrives in town. One of the young lady members who was very anxious to capture the coveted prize in the struggle engaged in fell and fractured 14 ribs, more or less, and several parts of her spinal cord. One young gentleman, whose home is on the banks of the Susquehanna, reports playing a game of "freeze-out" immediately after the reception, arriving at his hotel at 3 a. m. This of course, was an extra and not included on the regular program. An excellent musical program was rendered by the Laquin orchestra, under the direction of one of the most talented musicians in this section. Following the entertainments refreshments were served which all declared were excellent. Among the many present were the following: Misses Margaret Deegan, Bertha Knapp, Minnie Locoy, Cora Ayers, Katharine Smith, Lillian Mages, Frank Hurd, Elvora Bruner, Hazel Hurd, Jesse Henry, Elvora Eddy, Lillian Ross, Lela Dale, Mate Hurd, Georgianna Scribner, Reba Warner, Racie Scribner, Stella Hill, Effie Allen, Lacey Weber, Janney Ayers and Emma Pilger. Messrs. Caseman, Jno. Fairbanks, Ed. Dunfee, Francis Donlon, Jno. Smith, William Kinnally, William Donlon, Fred Drum, George Murray, Frank Putnam, Jos. Smith, Fred Trowbridge, Fred Schaefer, Harry Kline, Louis Allen, Floyd Hurd, Otis Allen, Albert Hurd, Lloyd Lyons, Albert Beers, Otto Sennacobb and Eugene Beers.

At an adjourned meeting of the Quarry Glen club, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, George W. Blackman; vice-president, Ben T. Hale; secretary and treasurer, Ed. Carter, Jr.; governors, G. M. Clark, J. W. Coddling, M. E. Horton and C. L. Tracy.

THE GREAT TROY FAIR

This Year's Exhibition Was Bigger and Better Than Ever.

SOME PREMIUM WINNERS.

Large Crowds Visited Beautiful Alpar on Park—Base Ball Games Were a Prominent Feature—Baby Show Had Thirty Entries—Some Notes.

The thirty-fourth annual fair of the Troy Agricultural society was held at Alpar on Park, Sept. 15 to 19. Liston Bliss is president of the society this year; John A. Parsons, vice president; L. H. Oliver, treasurer and D. F. Pomeroy, secretary and general superintendent. The exhibits this year compared favorably with previous years, especially the exhibit in agricultural hall. The poultry exhibit was also good, while there was not so large an exhibit of stock as in some former years, yet there were some very fine animals in the different departments. In the cattle department Austin Leonard of Leona, J. S. Vannoy of East Troy, and John VanHorn of East Troy, each exhibited Jerseys. J. F. Monroe of Sylvania, showed Guernseys, and Leland Card of Sylvania, and L. M. Bailey of Columbia X Roads, exhibited grade cattle. Among the horse and colts, Charles Shoemaker of Granville Summit, took first premium on general purpose colt. J. Z. King, J. C. Rockwell, A. L. Johnson and Calvin Warburton each exhibited fine stallions. In sheep, W. H. Johns showed 30 head of Ramboulets; W. H. Bradford, six pens of Horned Dorsets and Shropshires; John F. Monroe, ten pens of Shropshires and Hampshire. In hogs, F. H. Fitch of Granville Summit, took prizes on Berkshires and Chester Whites. Dan Shattuck exhibited Poland Chinas. The exhibit of poultry was large, there being an unusually large number of individual exhibitors. The principal exhibitors were Fred Kennedy, Alice Olds, W. D. Clark, M. H. McGinnis, E. M. Clark, Cora Spalding, P. N. Barker, J. F. Monroe, M. A. Rumsey, O. E. Briggs, Leland Clark, J. E. Califf, F. I. Bradford, H. E. Chase and R. Chase.

Farm Products.

The exhibits in this department were unusually good. Mrs. W. H. Bradford of Sylvania, showed a great variety of vegetables and fruit and captured many first prizes. The other principal exhibitors were F. A. Jenner, J. L. Calkins, F. H. Fitch, A. M. Cornell, Austin Leonard, J. L. VanHorn, W. H. Johns, M. A. Rumsey, Arthur Kenyon, Frank Beach, Leon Vannoy, Mrs. W. H. Card, Mrs. A. E. Backer, Mrs. E. B. Redington, Mrs. W. B. Gernert, James Mahood, Mrs. L. Gilmore, F. A. Beach, J. E. Califf, Fred Bohleyer, O. E. Briggs, A. B. Smith, Sol. Ballard and Frank Brick.

Merchants' Building.

Several new faces were seen in the merchants' building this year. Waldo & Soper of Sylvania, advertised Russaloy Roofing; D. S. Andrus & Co. of Elmira, represented by Mr. and Mrs. John Bellows, showed a large number of the D. S. Andrus & Co. and Dolemar pianos; Carpenter & Pierce exhibited Devote pianos; McGinnis & Smith, gent's furnishings; Beardsley & Coloney, Sterling stoves and ranges; L. J. Beach, Singer sewing machines; Bee Hive, ladies' furnishings; Snedeker & Mitchell, farm machinery; H. W. Wood showed Babcock testers and separators; Floyd Tracy, Simplex separators; Spalding & Son, DeLavel separators. In the art building, the show of paintings, drawings, cut flowers and needle work was unusually good. The principal exhibitors were A. B. Siler of Trenton, N. J., Mrs. P. Peck, G. S. Comfort, P. A. Johnson, Mildred Ballard, Mrs. L. Rockwell, Mrs. H. S. Newberry, Mrs. F. L. Ballard, Elizabeth VanDyne, A. B. Smith, Mrs. L. N. Barker, Miss Frank Conney, A. L. Wheeler, Mrs. W. B. Gernert, Mrs. A. E. Backer, Mrs. D. Rockwell, M. B. Larkin, Mrs. W. H. Bradford, Alice Coloney and M. A. Rumsey.

Attractions.

D. F. Pomeroy, the efficient secretary and general manager, tried a new scheme of advertising the fair this year. Instead of using posters and covering the fences and bill boards with advertising matter as in former years, Mr. Pomeroy took space in those papers which circulated largely in Western Bradford and Eastern Tioga counties. He also distributed a large number of catalogues through the mail and otherwise. The result convinces the management of the wisdom of newspaper advertising. Again Mr. Pomeroy believes that people visit the fair mainly to be entertained and amused, and while the educational feature of the fair should not be overlooked, yet at the close of the busy season, a vast majority of the people attend the fair, not so much to see the same stock brought in year after year to carry off the premiums and prizes, but come to be amused and entertained, and renew acquaintances and have a good time. This is proved by the large number who came this year from Elmira, Williamsport and other places along the railroads. As an Elmira gentleman said on Thursday, "I always plan to take in the Troy fair. Why, it would take me a month to go around and call on all my old friends, that I have met here today." The crowd was a record breaker on Thursday. There were also good turnouts on Wednesday and Friday. Altogether the admissions probably surpass in number those of any former year. LeRoy band furnished music throughout the fair and won a great deal of applause by their excellent work.

Under the leadership of Ernest Holcomb, LeRoy band has grown to be the best in Western Bradford, and the management made no mistake when they engaged it to play at the fair.

Wednesday.

A baby show attracted a great deal of attention. Some 30 babies competing for the prizes. In the one year old and under class, Murrell, the eleven months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Rockwell of Troy, got first prize and Leon, the eleven months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Steele of Canton, got second prize. In the 12 to 18 months old class, Louis, the 14 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Guthrie of Springfield, got the first and Edith, the 15 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Bohleyer of Granville, got to second prize. In the 18 to 24 months old class, Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Putnam of Canton, got first prize and Winifred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers of Troy, got second prize. Base ball was the leading attraction at the fair. Liberal prizes were offered and some very good games were the result. Humphrey Beaman acted as umpire throughout the fair and gave entire satisfaction to all. The game Wednesday morning between Troy and LeRoy was characterized by heavy hitting and poor fielding. Score was as follows: LeRoy, 1 4 0 1 5 0 3 2—16. Troy, 2 0 3 3 2 0 0 3 2—15. Wednesday afternoon Canton and Ralston played the best games of the series. These teams are old rivals, having contested several times before this season and both played to win. Ralston scored in the second inning, then up to the ninth neither side scored but in the ninth Canton pounded out two scores winning the game as follows: Ralston, 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—1. Canton, 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—2.

Thursday.

A good game Thursday morning between West Burlington and East Smithfield resulted as follows: West Burlington, 0 0 0 3 0 0 0 0—3. East Smithfield, 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 2—4. In the afternoon one of the most exciting games of the fair was played between Sayre and Arnot. Mahoney went into the box for Sayre and after a hard battle was succeeded by Cranmer. Jack Cotter pitched the game for Arnot and won after a hard fought ten inning game. The score: Sayre, 1 0 3 3 0 1 3 0 1—12. And Arnot, 4 5 0 0 3 0 0 0 1—13.

Friday.

In the forenoon Granville played Alba and won by a score of 23 to 1. A couple of wild throws were responsible for the only run made by Alba. Davidson of Canton, after the second inning, pitched for Alba and tried to help them out but the heavy hitters from Granville pounded him all over the field. Then Bloom from Troy, went into the box for Alba but it was no use and after seven innings of terrific pounding he too was knocked out of the box and the game was called for lack of another pitcher. Merritt and Rockwell were the battery for Granville and did excellent work. Merritt struck out 14 men in the seven innings. The score was as follows: Granville, 3 2 2 3 7 1 5—23. Alba, 0 1 0 0 0 0—1. In the afternoon Canton, the winner of the game from Ralston on Wednesday and Arnot, the winner from Sayre on Thursday, played the final game of the fair. Jud Parsons was in the box for Canton and struck out 11 men. Cotter pitched for Arnot and struck out nine men. The score was as follows: Canton, 1 0 2 0 0 0 0 0—3. Arnot, 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—2. A running race at the close of the ball game resulted in John Howland of Troy, being the winner.

Fair Notes.

Troy Gazette, Elmira Star Gazette, Elmira Advertiser and Reporter-Journal were each represented with tents on the grounds.

The ferris wheel did a big business all three days.

Among the candidates for office on the grounds Thursday were C. C. Pratt, George W. Kipp, Mose Shields, Albert Cornell, A. E. Meeker, George Moscrip, Charles E. Mills, W. P. Campbell, Delos Rockwell, William Foyle, James Passmore, Frank Moore, N. F. Walker, George N. Bird, L. H. Marsh, Job Griffin, John Dean and M. J. McNulty.

Those who had charge of the dining hall seemed to have undertaken just a little bit more than they could handle. There will probably be a different management next year.

The whip man as usual did a thriving business.

An unpleasant occurrence on Friday was when one of the Arnot players maddened by the umpire calling strikes on him, struck the umpire in the face with his fist. For a few minutes a free for all fight seemed inevitable but with the help of a half a dozen police, order was restored and the umpire, Mr. Beaman, allowed the game to proceed without ruling the fractious player out of the game.

The fair association will add about $1,000 to the surplus already in the treasury as the result of this year's exhibition.

Outside Panic Zone.

Tioga county is outside of the panic zone. Between 1903 and 1908 its bank deposits increased 88 per cent. This remarkable result cannot be attributed to an increase of population, because it is calculated that during this five-year period the population has remained about the same.

Lecture at Sheshequin.

A. M. Cornell, past lecturer of the Pennsylvania State Grange, will deliver a lecture in the Sheshequin town hall on Friday evening, Oct. 2, commencing at 8:15 o'clock. His subject will be "Grange Principles." Everybody invited, especially the ladies.

Idle curiosity always works the hardest.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The September meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held on Saturday afternoon at P. O. S. of A. hall with a large attendance. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Barcus, with Scripture reading, followed by prayer by Mrs. Norrish. After the business of the meeting, consisting of appointing a delegate to the state convention and arranging to furnish literature at the county fair, the hour was given to Mrs. Sylvia Norrish, state recording secretary, by giving glimpses of the late county convention and outlining the work of the union in their part of the local option campaign. The meeting was then adjourned to meet the third Saturday in October.

Auto Plunged From Bridge.

While returning from a pleasure trip through New York and Pennsylvania to his home in Uniontown, S. M. Graham, president of the Fayette Title and Trust company, accompanied by his wife and two sons, met with a serious accident at Columbia X Roads, on Monday of this week. The steering gear of the six-cylinder Wilton car refused to yield and the car was thrown over the bridge into the creek and was overturned. Mr. Graham received a bad fracture of the leg. He was removed to Williamsport hospital. It is thought probable that the limb will have to be amputated.

Birthday Party.

About 20 of the friends of Mary Russell gathered at her home Saturday afternoon reminding her of her seventh birthday. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in playing games. The games were adjourned at the announcement of refreshments and all trooped into the dining room which was tastefully decorated, the color scheme being red and green. An elaborate lunch was served. The little guests returned to their homes leaving many pretty remembrances and voting Mary an admirable hostess.

Lightning's Pranks.

The other afternoon during a heavy electric storm, three cows belonging to Mrs. Alva Andrews at Andrews Settlement, Potter county, were killed. As the storm became quite terrific the three calves huddled close together and extended their heads through a wire fence, the wires of which were fastened to a tree. During the storm lightning struck the tree, the wire communicating the electric bolt to the calves, instantly killing them.

Has Athens Position.

George H. Trapp, formerly of Towanda, has accepted a position as manager of the shoe department of the Karner department store in Athens. Mr. Trapp has had many years' experience in the shoe business both at Towanda, Atlantic City and other places.

THE GREATEST EVER.

Was the Annual Convention of the
P. O. S. of A. at Laquin.

A VERY LARGE ATTENDANCE.

Nearly Two Hundred Members of the Order Attended Sessions—Increase in District Has Been Very Large—
Officers Elected.

The annual district convention of the P. O. S. of A. was held at Laquin Friday and was one of the largest attended and most enthusiastic conventions ever held in the district, which comprises all of the camps in Bradford county. Nearly 200 delegates were in attendance, an unusually large number. Nearly every camp in the county was represented.

Officers Elected.

The business meeting was called to order at 10 a. m., and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Charles C. Smith of Towanda.
Vice-president—L. K. Williams of Franklindale.
Master of Forms—J. H. Bailey of Canton.
Recording Secretary—R. F. Hagan of Grover.
Financial Secretary—George C. Patterson of Sayre.
Treasurer—J. Campbell of New Albany.
Conductor—W. C. Franklin of Laquin.
Inspector—D. E. Tracy of Wetona.
Guard—Charles Alexander of Luthers Mills.

The report of the retiring officers showed that during the past year the order in the district had made the largest growth in its history.

The Towanda camp led the list, reporting the gaining of 70 new members during the past year.

The next convention will be held in Canton.

Delegates Royally Entertained.

The people of Laquin royally entertained the delegates, and they are speaking in the highest terms of the welcome they received in the lumber town. There was but one unpleasant feature and that was the forest fire which was threatening the town. Nearly all the members of the Laquin camp, committeemen and all, were compelled to go into the woods and help fight the fire.

The Parade.

The parade took place on Friday afternoon at 3:30, and was one of the largest ever given in the district. Nearly 200 men were in line. The Laquin band, the Towanda and Sayre drum corps furnished music for the marchers.

Address of the Day.

At 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at the conclusion of the parade, Rev. H. P. Ketch, pastor of the Sayre Christian church, delivered the annual address. The reverend gentleman took for his subject "The Inherent Rights Man," and delivered one of the best addresses ever heard at a like meeting in this section. Mr. Ketch is an excellent speaker, and carried conviction to every one within hearing of his voice.

Public Meeting.

A public meeting was held in the Laquin Baptist church Friday evening during which many impromptu yet interesting speeches were made.

The Towanda, Athens, Sayre and other delegates in the Northern part of the county returned on a special train leaving Laquin at midnight.

Birthday Party.

The Ulster correspondent of the Athens Journal gives the following particulars of a birthday party in that village: The annual birthday gathering of Miss Eliza Brink was held at her home on Second street in Ulster, Thursday, Sept. 10. The following named ladies were present from Towanda: Mrs. Orace Powell, Miss Louise Powell, Mrs. A. J. Layton, Mrs. M. J. Long, Mrs. W. B. Kelly, Mrs. A. H. Kingsbury, Mrs. Henry Rockwell, Mrs. W. J. McCabe. There were from Sheshequin: Mrs. L. J. Culver, Mrs. P. C. Gori, Mrs. Mary Gillett, Mrs. E. H. Gore, Mrs. Lewis Kilmer, Mrs. M. E. Cranmer, Miss Ruth Osman. From Ithaca: Mrs. Martha Shaw. From Milan: Mrs. H. Z. Shaw, Mrs. J. J. Morley. From Ulster: Mrs. J. C. Mather, Mrs. Eliza Newell, Miss Cynthia Shaw. An excellent dinner was served and all wished for many returns of the day.

Towanda Will Have Garage.

George W. Manville, the well known Towanda automobile expert, has purchased from the Nalad Hose company the lot on Bridge street, next to the Citizens National Bank building, and will have a substantial building erected which will be used as an automobile garage. Mr. Manville expects to put up a two or three story building with the intention of using the ground floor for the garage, and the second floor for a roller skating rink.

FIRST MOLASSES ROAD

One is Being Constructed Under
Department of Agriculture.

MAY SOLVE THE DUST PROBLEM

Some Very Unique Experiments Are Being Conducted in Various Parts of the United States—"Candy Road" is the Latest.

A number of uniquely interesting experiments are now being conducted by the office of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture and the results will be largely awaited by those interested in the good roads movement everywhere. The experiments are in the line of dust-proof roads and if successful a great step forward will have been taken in road building.

For several years the scientists in the office of public roads, as well as in many of the more progressive states, have been working to achieve two great objects, viz, the utilization of by-products in road building and the development of dustless roads. Experiments already conducted indicate that crushed rock combined with tar or asphalt preparations bid fair to solve in a measure the dustless road problem. Exhaustive laboratory tests have indicated that slag in combination with preparations of tar or asphalt may be made to serve as a substitute for crushed rock. Sections of experimental road are now being constructed which will subject the materials to actual test. If the results are satisfactory as the preliminary conditions indicate, the slag-asphalt or slag-tar roads for both the utilization of by-products and the attainment of a dustless road. One of these experimental stretches of road is now in course of construction at Chicago, under the supervision of Chief Engineer Vernon M. Peirce, of the federal bureau, and one at Birmingham, Alabama, under the direction of B. F. Heidel, first assistant engineer. The road at Chicago will be of slag and asphalt; that at Birmingham of slag and tar.

Candy Road.

More unique than this, however, the office is preparing at Newton, Mass., to lay a stretch of what facetious writers are almost certain to label a "Candy Road." In all flights of fancy it is probable that nobody expects a scientist would go so far afield in research as to adopt molasses as a road building material, but that is exactly what has been done, and Assistant Chemist Prevost Hubbard of Director Page's scientific corps is leveling a half-mile stretch of road near Newton, and in a few days will be in active supervision of the laying of the first molasses road of history. This molasses is the almost useless by-product of the great cane sugar refineries of the South, and the best sugar refineries of the West and Southwest. It is sickly sweet, nearly as black and as thick as tar, and almost as powerful as a binder. Having always been a waste product, it can be bought at a lower price than coal tar and in greater quantities.

When the quality and sticky consistency of this material was called to the attention of Director Page, a number of months ago, he conceived the idea that it might aid in solving the always difficult problem of dusty roads. He sent for a supply for laboratory experiments and detailed Mr. Hubbard to conduct them. The molasses was blended with oils and lime-water; was mixed with rock dust, with earth and with sand and tried out under heat and under water. It behaved so well and held out such promises for ideal roads that the practical test of a real road was recently decided upon.

Slag as the useless by-product of the blast furnaces may in a few years revolutionize country road building; great a demand for more extended roads in the states where those products are most easily to be had, and add millions to the wealth of the country by putting a cash value on hitherto waste material.

There is now in course of preparation a comprehensive treatise on dust prevention which will fall from the presses of the government printing office in a few days. Following it in a few weeks will be a symposium embodying the experience and the experiments of all state highway commissioners, park boards and city engineers who have done any work along these lines. Their views and findings will be supplemented by the reports of a federal road expert who has carefully examined the methods now in use in France and England.

TOWANDIANS SHOT

doctor thought nothing of the incident until Wednesday morning when Kennedy on the street, and was surprised the doctor's office on State street, and inquired if he "was responsible for those peculiar voices which he heard after you drove by Tuesday afternoon?" The doctor told him that he was not, and seeing that Kennedy was deranged mentally, talked kindly to him and said that he would do what he could to stop the voices, although he was not responsible for them, to which Kennedy replied: "Well, somebody is responsible for them, and I will shoot him if I hang for it."

AGAIN THREATENED DOCTOR.

Wednesday afternoon Dr. Pratt met Kennedy, armed with a big cane, visprised when he again accosted him, saying that he had heard the voices again, and he would have to stop them or he would kill him.

Satisfied that Kennedy was insane, and believing that he was not a safe person to be at large, the doctor went to the office of Justice of the Peace J. H. Orcutt and made a complaint, charging Kennedy with making threats, and also with lunacy.

DETECTIVE McCracken GIVEN WARRANT.

The warrant was placed in the hands of County Detective McCracken to serve, and it was the intention to ask the court to appoint a commission to inquire into Kennedy's sanity.

Detective McCracken was busy all the afternoon with a gang of jail prisoners on repairs on the wagon bridge, and about 6 o'clock he decided to take Kennedy into custody. Learning that Kennedy was at his home on Second street, Dr. Pratt notified Mr. McCracken, and they drove to the Hall house in the doctor's carriage. William Kinney, the doctor's coachman, was in charge of the team.

TRIED RUDE.

Believing Kennedy to be dangerous the officer and doctor decided that it would be best to get him into custody through a ruse. The plan was that Detective McCracken go to Kennedy's door, tell him that Dr. Leonard Pratt was in his carriage on Second street, and wanted him to come out, shake hands and be good friends, and that the doctor would see that the strange voices would cease. Once on the street, and unarmed, it was the intention of the plucky officer to grapple with Kennedy, overpower him and place handcuffs upon his wrists.

FIRED THROUGH WINDOW.

Detective McCracken went to the basement door of Kennedy's home in accordance with the plans, leaving the doctor and his coachman in the carriage.

The officer had hardly rapped before through the glass in the door, in the semi-darkness of the interior of the room, he saw a flash, heard the report of a pistol followed by the crashing of the glass in the door, and then felt a stinging sensation in his left breast near the heart.

HURRIED FROM SCENE.

With the smarting wound to urge him on, and the knowledge that an armed maniac was on the other side of the door ready to shoot again, Detective McCracken turned and hurried to the street.

As he reached the sidewalk he called to the doctor, saying that he had been shot, and that he thought it was all over with him. The doctor leaped from his carriage to assist the officer, and as he reached him he pulled open McCracken's blood stained shirt.

THE DOCTOR SHOT.

The doctor had hardly opened the officer's shirt, and before he could get a glimpse of the wound, Kennedy had rushed from the house and coming up to the sidewalk, took aim with his revolver and fired the second time. The bullet struck the doctor in the abdomen.

Young Kinney in the doctor's carriage called to them to jump in quick, but the wounded men turned the other way, and the horses frightened by the report of the pistol, answered quickly to the touch of the reins and dashed over Second to Pine street.

WOUNDED MEN RAN FROM THE MANIAC.

Knowing that their only safety lay in flight, the doctor and the officer ran over Second street to the corner of Poplar, where they both fell in the ditch in front of the Poplar street door of Chief of Police Miller. As they dashed along the street they heard the pistol crack again, and the sound of the bullet as it whizzed by. Both men fell from exhaustion caused by their wounds and exertion.

CROWD GATHERED QUICKLY.

Scores of people saw the shooting, or a part of it, and a large crowd quickly gathered. One of the first to reach the wounded man was Harold Russell. Detective McCracken was lying face downward where he had fallen in the ditch. Dr. Pratt was lying near by. The doctor arose to a sitting posture, but the officer made no move and at first it was thought he was dead. Mr. Russell turned the officer over on his back with his head up the hill.

A cab was called and Dr. Pratt was taken to his home at the corner of State and Main streets, where he was attended by his brother, Dr. C. Manville Pratt, Dr. Charles Reed, Dr. S. M. Woodburn, Dr. C. M. Woodburn, and Dr. Chaffee of Towanda, and Dr. Bosworth of Wyalusing. Examination at once proved that the wound was not at all dangerous and that the doctor would fully recover.

WOUNDED OFFICER TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

Officer McCracken was placed upon a stretcher, and after attention was given by Dr. C. S. Means, he was carried to the Washington street depot and placed in a coach of the shop train which had just arrived. The locomotive was attached to the coach and then commenced a record breaking run to Sayre. The 17 miles was covered in 18 minutes.

Orders were received at Upper Towanda that the special had right of way, and the engineer opened the throttle and away sped the train with the wounded man. A record breaking run was made to Sayre, and when the hospital was reached the surgeons were in readiness and immediate attention was given. Dr. C. S. Means and J. R. McCracken, brother of the wounded man, accompanied him to the hospital.

BULLET REMOVED.

The surgeons at the hospital located the bullet, which had lodged behind the left shoulder blade, and removed it. Mr. McCracken stood the ordeal well, and his condition is so favorable that the doctors think his chances for recovery are good. While the wound bleeds internally yet he suffers but little and is resting very easily.

KENNEDY TAKEN INTO CUSTODY.

Following the firing of the third shot, Kennedy returned to his rooms, went out the back door, down an alley to the Ward House barn, then to Poplar street, crossing over to the right hand side within two rods of where the victims of his bullets lay, then down the hill to Main street where he stopped and looked about, remarking aloud that he "had shot them, and will do no more." A moment later he was taken into custody by Night Officer Brutzman and taken to the county jail.

The revolver with which he did the shooting is a 38-calibre, and but three of the shells were empty, proving that but three shots had been fired, one of which struck Detective McCracken, one Doctor Pratt and the third going wild.

Attorney W. P. Wilson went before "Squire Orcutt and made complaint charging Kennedy with assault with intent to kill. He will be arraigned later.

EXCITEMENT WAS INTENSE.

Not in years has such excitement been created in Towanda. The scene of the shooting being in the heart of the city, caused the news to spread like wildfire, and half an hour after the report of the pistol had died away the town was agog over the affair.

Both the victims of Kennedy's gun are prominent in local affairs. Dr. Pratt is ex-burgess of Towanda, formerly coroner of the county and is one of the best known physicians and surgeons in Northern Pennsylvania.

Mr. McCracken, beside being county detective, is also constable of the Second ward of Towanda, conducts a store on Bridge street and is the owner and manager of the Family theatre on Main street.
